Secretary Hughes Signifies the Willingness of America If All Allies Join in Bid.

WASHINGTON FIRM
ON DEBT POLICY

General Opinion Is That Parley Will Not Materialize on Account of the French Attitude.

London, October 25.—(By Associated Press.)—Correspondence issued by the foreign office tonight showing that the British government had received the occasion of the first public statement by President Coolidge on the situation in Europe to send another formal invitation to the Washington government to cooperate in a new conference in an attempt to settle the reparations difficulty came almost as a complete surprise to the public and newspapers.

The secret had been well kept, especially considering the presence in London of all the empire representatives, who must have been aware of the move, which undoubtedly was discussed in the confidential debates in the imperial conference on foreign affairs.

Smuts Started It.

Lord Curzon's request is for American participation in any form, either official or unofficial, or alternatively, participation in an inquiry by a special commission appointed by the reparations commission. Whether the government's move was prompted by General Smuts or whether General Smuts' famous speech was intended to lend weight to the government's move is not known, but it will be noted that General Smuts' proposal was for a conference of all the powers, including the neutrals, not merely those interested in reparations.

In his reply to Lord Curzon, Secretary Hughes declares that the United States is willing to take part in an economic conference in which all the European allies chiefly concerned in German reparations participate for the purpose of ascertaining Germany's capacity to pay and an appropriate plan for payment. He emphasizes three points, however; first, that while the United States has no desire to see Germany relieved of her responsibility or just obligations, regard must be had for Germany's rehabilitation; second, that such conference should be advisory, and, third, that the question of the interrelated debt is entirely separate from the question of reparations.

U. S. Will Keep 1 O. U.'s.

No official opinion could be gleaned at the foreign office tonight, but the general view seems to be that there is not a sufficient advance in Secretary Hughes' attitude as revealed by the correspondence as to warrant a very strong hope that the suggested conference will materialize. It is feared that France will still

CRAZED MAN SLAIN
AFTER STABBING
FOUR ON TRAIN

Trinidad, Colo., October 25.—Seized with a sudden fit of insanity on board Santa Fe No. 7 westbound, at Thatcher, Telesforo Candelaria, of Monrovia, Cal., today ran amuck with a knife, stabbed and seriously wounded Conductor M. C. Deubler, of Albuquerque, and three passengers and himself were killed.

Candelaria was shot twice by Otto G. Palmer, negro porter of Albuquerque. A blow over the head with a stove poker by another passenger on the train was fatal to the Mexican. Conductor and the three wounded passengers were taken off the train at Thatcher and removed to the railroad hospital at La Junta and the body of Candelaria taken off the train here by Acting Coroner F. E. Cole.

HIGHER SALARIES
URGED FOR POLICE AND FOR FIREMEN

Edward Inman Introduces Ordinance in Council Calling for Ten Dollars a Month Increase.

Ordinances to raise the salary in 1924 of practically every member of the Atlanta police and fire departments about $10 per month, except that of Chief of Police James L. Beavers, were introduced in council at its special session Thursday by Edward H. Inman, a new councilman from the eighth ward and former member of the old police board.

Mr. Inman said that the cost of his proposed increases would be about $75,000. He proposes to raise about $65,000 of this sum by increasing "costs" in recorders' court from $1 to $3 per case. The other $10,000 would be appropriated from general revenues of the city.

The ordinances were referred, on motion of Mr. Inman, to the salaries and ordinance committees of council.

Will Fight Raises.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong, chairman of the police committee, stated Thursday night that he would fight the police ordinance on the ground that the raises are too small. He wants police salaries raised about $20 per month and the salary of the chief increased substantially, he said.

Mr. Inman's proposal is to pay patrolmen and privates in the fire department $125 per month for first year's service, instead of $115 as at present, and raises them $5 each year until the fourth year of service when the maximum of $140 would be reached. Officers' pay is to be increased proportionately. Fire Chief

Killed for Love
Of Brother's Wife,
Confesses Rogers

With Tears Streaming Down Face, Georgian Bares Tragedy Motive.

Douglas, Ga., October 25.—Falling madly in love with the wife of his brother, Love, John Rogers, farmer, Thursday night, confessed to Sheriff Tanner that he had slain him and buried the body in a field where it was found by neighbors.

Pale and nearing collapse, Rogers, with tears streaming down his face told of coming to visit his brother and while there of becoming infatuated with Mrs. Rogers.

His attentions were not returned, he said, and the two planned to elope. Later they thought better of the plan, according to the confession, and decided to first kill Love, and make it appear as an "outside" murder.

After spending the evening away from home the two returned home late and found Love asleep. Mrs. Rogers, he said, suggested this to be the opportune time for the killing. So the two went to the field, dug an improvised grave and upon returning to the house said Rogers still was asleep.

"I fired three shots into his body. We undressed him, wrapped the body in a quilt and took it to the crude grave and dropped him in," the brother fairly screamed.

"His wife helped me pile the dirt over him. Then we eloped and were married. I was captured with her in Florida where we had fled. That is all of it. May God have mercy on my soul."

When first arrested, both Rogers and his wife said he had fired to protect her from an attack by her first husband, who, they said, was intoxicated.

RED TAPE SLASHED
IN CLEARING WAY FOR GIRLS' HIGH

Mayor and Council Act and Last Obstacles to Beginning of Work Are Swept Aside.

EVERYTHING IS READY DECLARE ARCHITECTS

First Unit Will Cost $128,514—New Building Is Expected To Be Open by September Next Year

Slashing red tape with a free hand, Mayor Walter A. Sims and general council Thursday afternoon cleared the way for beginning the new Girls' High school and work will actually start as soon as building materials can be hauled by the Griffin Construction company to the Rosalia street site.

Three separate measures were adopted separately by council and the aldermanic board, and Mayor Sims signed each before the imprint of City Clerk Walter Taylor's rubber stamp had dried.

In order to pass the three measures legally, council and the aldermanic board had to go into separate sessions twice, council taking a recess while the aldermanic board formally was convened and the aldermanic board taking a recess while council was formally reconvened. Each measure required the separate approval of both bodies.

Following the session, which had been specially called by Mayor Sims to act on Girls' High, City Attorney James L. Mayson ruled that the new contract is legal and effective and that the fate of the new school is now in the hands of the contractors.

Cost Will Be $128,514. The contract approved by council and signed by Mayor Sims calls for building of the central unit, or "unit A," of the school at a cost of $128,514. The contract is guaranteed by the city out of $69,000 of bond money in actual cash, and estimated

WEEVIL MEETING
WEATHERS STORM

"Joker" Paragraph in Resolution Eliminated When Business Men Accept Senator's Lead.

New Orleans, October 25.—An innocent-looking paragraph in the lengthy report of the committee on investigation dealing with the scientific side of killing the boll weevil almost brought the National Boll Weevil menace conference to an end late today.

Its adoption would have taken the form of a permanent organization out of the hands of the conference and left that body with nothing else to do except to listen to persons who desired to talk on almost any subject they might bring up. Business men who had come long distances in response to invitations to participate in the conference eventually awakened to that fact and made a fight to combat it, but they put up only a weak showing against the scientists and non-scientific weevil-killers. It was not until Senator Joseph E. Ransdall, of Louisiana, took the lead in a forceful rally against it that the paragraph finally was stricken from the report. The paragraph follows:

Looks Innocent.

"We recommend, that the president of the convention appoint four others, representing various interests in cotton production and consumption, to serve with him as a committee on perfection of a permanent organization, which committee shall be empowered to confer with a similar committee proposed by the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers with a view to bringing into existence a permanent organization which will provide the coordination, correlation and suggestion of plans and facilities for weevil control investigation and for the adoption of the best practices throughout the cotton belt."

SIX ARE INJURED
AS BOMBS EXPLODE
BEFORE MUSSOLINI

Turin, Italy, October 25.—Six persons were injured, two of them seriously, through the explosion of a half dozen hand grenades in the hands of Arditi bomb throwers during the military display at the stadium yesterday in the presence of Premier Mussolini. Two of the injured had their hands virtually blown to pieces. The right hand of Lieutenant Albergo, a negro, was amputated on the spot. He showed wonderful fortitude, crying out a "viva" to Premier Mussolini as the operation was in progress.

Giuseppe Volpi, a commercial traveler, also lost a hand. The four others injured lost several fingers.

TRAPP DECLARED
ACTING GOVERNOR
BY 5 TO 4 RULING

Decision Sustains Action of Senate in Suspending Executive Pending Impeachment.

Oklahoma City, October 25.—(By Associated Press.)—Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp was declared acting governor of Oklahoma in a decision of the state supreme court late today, making permanent a writ of prohibition against Governor J. C. Walton and district Judge Tom G. Chambers, Sr., which restrains them from interfering with the lieutenant governor's assumption of the office.

The court announced its decision orally after a brief conference following an afternoon of argument. The decision, it was explained, made the writ effective against J. C. Walton as an individual and not as governor. Judge Chambers was enjoined in his official capacity as judge. The vote of the court was five to four.

The decision sustains a resolution adopted by the state senate suspending Governor Walton during his impeachment trial, and nullifies an injunction obtained by the governor in Judge Chambers' court which would have prevented the lieutenant governor from becoming acting governor.

Oklahoma Congressman Declares Some Definite Use of Shoals Is Imperative to Nation.

EITHER SELL TO FORD OR DEVELOP IT

If Sale Is Not Made, Congress Should Declare Against Private Exploitation of Water Power, He Says.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, October 25.—Representative Thomas, democrat, of Oklahoma, who recently visited Muscle Shoals, declared in a statement today that if the present administration did not adopt a policy by acceptance of the Ford proposition for the disposition of Muscle Shoals, congress should declare against the policy of private exploitation of water power development and should declare in favor of a policy of developing valuable water power sites for the benefit of the public.

Shoals Is Concrete Issue.

"As slavery was the concrete issue which plunged the states into civil war, in order that the constitution might be construed as to the federal government, so is Muscle Shoals rapidly forming the concrete issue, the solution of which will shape the policy of the federal government in regard to the development of water-power throughout the United States. In the event the present administration does not adopt a policy by the acceptance of the Ford proposition for the disposition of Muscle Shoals, then congress should declare against the policy of private exploitation of water-power development and should declare in favor of a policy of acquiring, holding, developing and operating valuable water-power sites for the use and benefit of the public."

"As regards Muscle Shoals, the congress should adopt a policy of the retention, development and operation of the property along the following lines:

PIN RECOVERING

Virginia Manston, 15-year-old student of Girls' High school, was reported resting nicely at Davis-Fischer sanitarium Thursday night following an operation in the afternoon for the removal of a pin which she accidentally swallowed while attending a class in dressmaking and domestic art at the school.

Miss Manston celebrated her fifteenth birthday yesterday. She is a daughter of Mrs. Beulah B. Manston, and a niece of Paul Donohoe, coroner of Fulton county.

FIVE SHOT DOWN
IN STREET FRAY
AT HAWKINSVILLE

Two Near Death After Clash in Georgia Town Starting in Poolroom Ejection Quarrel.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Hawkinsville, October 25.—Five men were wounded in a shooting affray that occurred on the streets here tonight, and two of them are believed to be in a dying condition.

The trouble is said to have started in a poolroom after the proprietor, H. F. Pollock, is said to have ejected a patron because of alleged boisterousness.

The wounded:

Aaron Mannheim, member of a prominent family, shot twice in the region of the heart, with buckshot. Believed to be dying.

Frankie, traveling clothing salesman from New York, hit in side by stray bullet. Condition serious.

Isador Mirsky, shot in foot.

Joe Coley hit in leg with buckshot. Julian Berg, of Eastman, shot in foot with buckshot.

The police are hunting for Pollock, who is alleged to have fired six times with a shotgun at persons in the street in front of his place of business. Pollock disappeared immediately after the shooting rolled away.

According to the police George Grinstead, who was ejected from the pool room, went to the Dixie Vulcanizing company and obtained the proprietor, Aaron Mannheim. The two returned to the poolroom together.

Then they left, Grinstead going to his store and Mannheim to his place of business, but returned a few minutes later. They found Pollock armed with a shotgun, defying them to approach his place.

Witnesses say that the two men tried to rush on the place and Pollock opened fire, shooting twice. He paused a few seconds and then fired four more times, according to the police.

But while Pollock was shooting, according to the police, a small group of men began shooting from behind the pillars of the Hawkinsville Bank and Trust company, a hundred yards away. These stray shots hit some of the bystanders.

There is said to have been ill feeling between some of the participants in the shooting for several days.

Frankie is a middle aged man. He had not registered at the hotel here and his friends refused to disclose his full name until his wife could be notified.

Doctors found that Frankie's condition was taking a turn for the worse late tonight and declared that an operation would be necessary at once. At midnight he was taken to a hospital in Macon, Ga.

No hope is held out for Mannheim.

WORLD LEADERSHIP
LOST TO AMERICA

Senator Underwood Urges Return to War-Time Principles as Platform for Nomination.

Dallas, Texas, October 25.—Oscar W. Underwood, United States senator from Alabama, declared in an address at the Texas State fair here today that America has surrendered leadership in world affairs, losing herself in partisan politics, and the plain duty that lies ahead is "to return to the principles guiding America in the great war, to have and exercise a definite governmental policy in Europe."

Mr. Underwood opened his campaign for the democratic presidential nomination previously at Nocona, Texas, when he declared he was "going to give the south a chance to select a southern man to carry the banner of democracy." The south

STRESEMANN MAY BE ABLE TO HOLD
RHINE FOR REICH

Conference in Westphalia Brings Offer of Autonomy to Rhenish Republic as Next Move.

PALATINATE FIRE
BURNS ITSELF OUT

Crown Prince Wilhelm Asks Permission To Re-enter Germany; Request Is Pending.

Berlin, October 25.—Germany will proclaim a Rhineland free state if the separatist movement spreads dangerously.

The state will retain allegiance to Germany, but will receive wide autonomous powers.

These decisions have been reached in a conference between Chancellor Stresemann, other high government officials, industrialists and labor leaders, held Thursday at Hagen, in Westphalia.

In addition to Stresemann, the conference was attended by Minister of the Interior Sollmann, Minister of the Occupied Regions Fuchs and Premier Braun, of Prussia.

It is a belated step to separatist sentiment, but with simultaneous indications that the separatist fire is dying. The move may save the day, giving the Rhineland a wider measure of control over its affairs, but keeping it within the Reich.

Will Not Bow Neck.

This "spook of separatism" must be ended in twenty-four hours, Chancellor Stresemann declared in a speech at Hagen, when he made a desperate effort to rally the fragments of German patriotism into a force that would ward off the "influences from without."

"We stand at the peak of the battle for the Ruhr and the Rhine, which is being conducted with unequal weapons," the chancellor said. "Now separatist dangers are appearing—with French and Belgian aid. The federal government does not dream of bowing to this breach of the treaty of Versailles and of international law."

Stresemann again proposed that Germany's capacity to pay reparations be examined by an impartial commission.

No sacrifice would be too great, Stresemann said, to regain German unity, but "France grudge us our freedom," he added.

See Ray of Hope.

A ray of hope was seen in dispatches from the Palatinate which indicated that the decision for autonomy—said to have been made by three prominent socialists in conjunction with the French—will be ineffective due to rejection by the diet. The situation is still confused, however, and autonomy may yet be decided upon, although there seems but little doubt that the

Guard Stationed
To Prevent Boy
Ending His Life

Action Is Taken After He Makes Two Unsuccessful Attempts.

A special guard was assigned to watch William Tyler, 17-year-old boy, at the local barracks Thursday night, following two unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide, once with a handkerchief and the other time with a belt, both of which he wrapped about his neck.

Tyler was taken into custody late in the afternoon upon advice from Jacksonville, Fla., from which place he is said to have escaped, from the Florida Industrial School for Boys. He expressed a determination to end his life, according to local police, claiming that his parents had "turned against" him and that he did not wish to live.

Turnkeys at the police station discovered the boy in his cell both times when he endeavored to end his life and prevented him from doing so. Night Chief Jett, when informed of the youth's actions, stationed a guard near the boy to prevent him from further attempts at self-destruction.

Verdict Is Reached About One Hour After Jury Returns From Supper. No Appeal Yet Asked.

DRAMATIC STATEMENT
MADE BY MRS. JUSTICE

Claims That She Shot and Killed Lover in Order To Save Little Sister From Shame.

A jury which had knelt in prayer for divine guidance as it began its deliberations declared at 8:20 o'clock Thursday night that Mrs. O'Neil Combs Justice, slayer of DeWitt Turner, was guilty of murder and recommended her to the mercy of the court.

Under the Georgia law it was then obligatory for Judge J. H. Howard to impose on the attractive young defendant a sentence of life imprisonment. A smile of apparent satisfaction played about the convicted woman's mouth as she heard her fate.

Attorney Murphy Holloway, leading counsel for the defense, made no move for new trial, and did not indicate whether or not he will do so. He is given 20 days in which to formally request a second trial. It was thought in court circles that Mrs. Justice will accept her sentence.

Kneel In Prayer.

The jury left the court room at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The first act of the jurors after filing into their room was to kneel in prayer, according to spectators who could see the silhouette of the kneeling men on the frosted glass windows between the jury room and the hallway.

Shortly after 7 o'clock the jury indicated that there was no prospect of permitting them to go to a prayer street cafe, in custody of deputy sheriffs, for supper. After reconvening, it took the jury only about 20 minutes to agree on the verdict of guilty.

Friends and relatives of the principals in the case and a goodly number of customary curiosity-seekers remained in the court room to hear the outcome of the trial.

When sentence was pronounced, Mrs. Justice was returned to the Fulton tower by deputy sheriffs. She seemed to be none the worse physically for the ordeal of the two-day trial.

Testimony Completed.

Testimony was completed at 11:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, including a dramatic statement by Mrs. Justice, and the afternoon session was devoted to arguments by counsel and Judge Howard's charge to the jury.

Warthen Evans, of counsel for the defense, delivered the opening argument. He was followed by Assistant Solicitor Ed A. Stephens and Solicitor Boykin, and Attorney Murphy Holloway, leading counsel for Mrs. Justice, closed the argument.

Attorney Evans based his plea for the acquittal of Mrs. Justice on her claim that the shooting was prompted by Turner's threat to take her young sister to New York, and he contended

GAME IS FEATURE FOR COLLEGE DAY

Macon, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) College day will be observed at the Georgia State Exposition Friday, and thousands of college students from over the state are to attend. A special train will be run from Forsyth to bring the Bessie Tift girls. Large delegations from the State college at Milledgeville and from other institutions have signified their intention of coming to Macon for the day. The students at Mercer university and Wesleyan college have been given a holiday for the day. Mercer Alumni day will be observed and the Alumni association has sent out invitations to thousands of former students of the Baptist institution to attend the fair. The big feature attraction will be the football game between Mercer and Birmingham-Southern college. The game will be played at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Saturday will be observed as automobile day and automobile races will be the feature attraction. Lanier High school of Macon, and Boys' High of Atlanta, will meet on the gridiron inside the fair grounds at 12 o'clock noon, Saturday. Today was agricultural and farmers' day and the crowd was the largest of the week. Poultry awards were announced and the judging in the women's department was begun. D. T. Heimlich, of Jacksonville, Ill., judged the poultry and his work gave general satisfaction. Fifteen hundred birds were entered in the show.

Mysteries of Meat Packing
Comparisons between the cost of some choice meat cuts such as ham or steak, and the cost of the (1) animal, do not indicate profit in the handling of meat because each meat animal contains many portions which cannot be sold at the same price as can ham and steak, and all the portions must be sold before there is any profit.

When you taste it you'll understand

Do you know that ham is the most popular meat order in restaurants? Experienced travelers recognize its dependability; and enjoy its flavor. Supreme Ham is made to be supreme; to give you the highest quality, the greatest economy, and a flavor all its own. The mild Supreme sugar cure is the secret of that flavor.

HOSPITAL UNIT TO BE ORGANIZED SATURDAY NIGHT

Organization of a National Guards hospital unit in Atlanta is expected to be perfected Saturday night at a meeting to be held in the city auditorium, at 8 o'clock. The new outfit would be known as hospital company No. 114, Medical Regiment No. 105. The purpose of the organization is to furnish medical and surgical attention for national guardsmen in Atlanta and vicinity, and at the same time serve as a training school for national personnel for emergencies. The peace time functions of such an organization is purely a training school.

Major Thomas P. Goodwyn will be the commanding officer, with Captains A. J. Ayer, C. R. Adams and H. W. McDonald, as assistants in charge of various sections of the work. Sixty men are required in such a company before federalization is possible, but Major Goodwyn stated Thursday that he expected no trouble to securing an organization of at least 75 officers and men.

There will be a drill one night each week. This drill lasts from 8 to 9:30 p. m. The pay of 1 1/2 hours of drill is equivalent to one day's pay for the same grade in regular army.

During the month of July each year a two week's encampment for training in the field. The pay is same as for regular army men of same grade. No expense attached, all uniforms, equipment, etc., furnished. There are still some vacancies for enlisted men and non-commissioned officers, between the ages of 18 and 64 years of age. Previous medical training or experience is not necessary for enlistment.

CHIEF OF POLICE ALLOWED TO TAKE INSPECTION TRIP

Approval of application for fifteen days' leave of absence for Police Chief James L. Beavers, who will accompany Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, chairman of the police committee of the city council, on a tour of inspection of traffic conditions in leading cities of the north, was signed by Mayor Walter A. Sims Thursday. Expenses of Chief Beavers and Alderman Armistead on the trip will be defrayed by individual contributions from members of the police committee, who expressed a desire to improve local traffic conditions even at their own expense.

"So long as this junketing trip does not cost the city anything," declared Mayor Sims, "I see no reason why I should decline to approve the leave of absence for Chief Beavers. I sincerely trust that both the chief and chairman of the police committee will gain valuable information regarding traffic reforms while they are on the trip, that can be utilized here. Atlanta certainly needs to have its traffic laws enforced."

Chief Beavers and Chairman Armistead plan to leave Atlanta for Washington, D. C., Tuesday. Alderman Armistead introduced a resolution instructing Mayor Walter A. Sims, Alderman L. N. Ragsdale, chairman of the finance committee of council, and Comptroller B. Graham West to arrange for the sale of the Girls' High property before the close of school in June 1924, with the stipulation that proceeds of the sale will go into the Girls' High building fund.

GRIEF OVER LOSS OF MATE CAUSES SELF DESTRUCTION

Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—James L. Kitchens, almost eighty years of age, native of America, died this morning in his room at a boarding house where he had been residing for the past two years. He had been suffering from a long illness, which was caused by gas troubles. It is believed there is no doubt that he turned on the gas himself with intent to take his life. He was about eighteen months ago and he had been grieving over that separation with an intensity that was unusual, although last night he was apparently in better spirits than usual.

Callahan stood guarded by two members from the sergeant at arms had ordered other members back into the chamber. Eighth Charge Voted.

The eighth charge in the bill of impeachment against Governor Walton was voted upon by the lower house, which it approved 77 to 14, article 12 of its committee report accusing the executive of declaring martial law in Tulsa "when no cause, reason or ground existed therefor."

Callahan's bitter attacks on the plan, the first which have been made in the house during the extraordinary session occurred after a long debate on whether the house should vote for impeachment of Governor J. C. Walton on article 10, which concerns his declaration of martial law in Tulsa county. Callahan said that 90 per cent of the jury commissioners in the state were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

"People in this state have been tried in secret before they reached the court room," Callahan declared. "Do you know that 90 per cent of the Oklahoma jury commissioners are klansmen?" one member demanded.

"Yes, sir; I know it," Callahan replied. He then related how Governor Walton declared war on the Klan and how Grand Dragon Jewett, "almost immediately defied the executive to overthrow the Ku Klux Klan."

Dictating Legislation. "This same Mr. Jewett," asserted Callahan, waving his arms and vigorously shaking his head, "is dictating the making of laws to be enacted by this body. He is."

Here Representative Callahan was interrupted by shouts from all over the house chamber and the members springing at him.

The force of the attack knocked Callahan into a chair behind him, crushed it and two legislators went to the floor, surrounded almost immediately by a group of indignant house members.

Representative Thornsborough, democrat, was one of the first to defend Governor Walton when discussion of article 10 was started.

"I am earnestly opposed to militarism," Thornsborough said, "but I would much rather see a bunch of boys marching up and down these streets in uniform than a bunch of men marching with pillows over their heads."

Chairman Disney of the impeachment committee asked permission to explain that the committee interpreted the statutes on martial law declaration as giving the governor no power to declare martial law.

"Governor Walton has the right to declare that a state of insurrection exists and command the military to work with civil authorities, but they must not work as the superiors of civil officers," he said.

Representative Wren, democrat, of Okfuskee, asserted that conditions declared in the governor's proclamation to exist in Tulsa county, "existed only in the minds of several state officials."

Dr. G. S. Long, democrat, Tulsa, in a sweeping defense of his district, declared that much publicity had been given to the fact that a mob there cut off a negro's ear.

"They didn't tell you," Dr. Long said, referring to those who made public the testimony, "that the mob was composed of negroes and that they were not masked. They didn't tell you that a year or a year and a half ago hijackers, bootleggers and murderers made the public highways in Tulsa county unsafe for citizens to travel nor that a group of citizens had patrolled these highways for three months and made them safe for travel."

returns of $80,000 from sale of the Fraser Street school property. The Washington and Mitchell streets girls' high property is to be made available next year for sale for the building fund.

Councilman Ed H. Inman, chairman of the schools committee of council, introduced a resolution at the opening of the session to transfer the two unsold Washington street lots to the board of education specifically for sale to secure funds for the new building.

Alderman Armistead introduced a resolution instructing Mayor Walter A. Sims, Alderman L. N. Ragsdale, chairman of the finance committee of council, and Comptroller B. Graham West to arrange for the sale of the Girls' High property before the close of school in June 1924, with the stipulation that proceeds of the sale will go into the Girls' High building fund.

Council Must Act

The Girls' High sale will be subject to approval of council at a later date. The Fraser street property is transferred to the board of education without any other strings attached than the proviso that it must be sold to apply on the Girls' High building.

A body of pretty high school girls packed the rear of council chamber during the debate on the Girls' High project and was liberal in applause for speakers who championed their cause. Members of the school board also were present.

Everything in Readiness

W. A. Edwards, of the firm of Edwards & Sayward, architects for the Girls' High school, attended the session and stated that everything is in readiness for work to begin. The site of the central unit has already been graded, he said, and nothing is left to hinder the construction forces.

Work probably will begin Friday to prepare the foundation of the central unit. It will require the contractors several weeks to get the foundations placed.

Mr. Edwards was optimistic over the outlook for opening the new building by September of next year. Council plans to appropriate an additional $100,000 toward the building next year and the Fulton county commissioners will be asked to appropriate an equal sum. The board of education has agreed to appropriate $50,000, although Superintendent Willis A. Sutton has asserted that the schools will not be able to operate without at least $700,000 additional revenue.

ton belt and further to secure the fullest possible cooperation, intellectually and financially, among all interested parties in this final solution of this surprisingly important weevil control problem.

The Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, it developed in the discussion, will meet November 11. This organization is said to be composed of agricultural college professors and workers of the various government research stations.

Paragraph Eliminated

Adoption of this section would have automatically taken the forming of a permanent organization out of the hands of the conference, it was asserted, leaving it in the hands of a committee of four appointed by the chairman, C. G. Rives, Jr., and a committee to be appointed by the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, which that organization meets some time in the future. After the elimination of the paragraph Mr. Rives appointed the resolutions committee to report tomorrow morning with suggestions for a permanent organization.

The resolutions committee is composed of H. M. Royce, vice president of the New York Cotton Exchange; Dr. J. W. Lea, of Jackson, La., one of the callers of the conference; R. D. Bowen, of Texas; Dr. W. D. Hunter, of the United States department of agriculture; W. R. Scott, president of the Southern Pacific railroad of Texas; H. S. Mobley, of the Illinois Manufacturers' association; J. W. Arrington, of Greenville, S. C.; O. E. Bradfute, of the American farm bureau; L. K. Nicholson, editor of the Times-Picayune, of New Orleans; Dr. Tate Butler, of Memphis; J. W. Fox, of Scott, Miss.; and Miss Duncan, of Oklahoma.

Recommend Exterminators

Calcium arsenate applied either as a syrup mixture or in the form of dust, before the blossoms form, was recommended to the conference by the special committee of investigation as the proper weapon to be directed at the cotton pest. The recommendation was embodied in the report of the committee, which suggested there should be one treatment with the poison, and possibly two. It declared that when "gusting" was resorted to there was better control of the weevil after the plater has reached the blossom stage and it urged that the dusting be done early in the season.

The Florida method, developed at the Florida experiment station at Gainesville, the committee said, results in good control of hibernated weevils, and reduces the attack in the early part of the season, increasing the yield, but this treatment sometimes leaves the field subject to re-infestation, causing a shorter fruitage period.

2.—When calcium arsenate dusting method is followed there is better control of the weevil after the plater has reached the blossom stage.

4.—Dusting should be done early in the season.

5.—The president of the convention should appoint a permanent committee composed of four members of representative interests, to confer with a committee of southern agricultural workers and develop permanent organization.

Larker's Recommendation

Each of the speakers at the initial session had a recommendation to offer. Larker, however, declared the pest could be eradicated, but said the poison method kills bird life and injures the soil. Mechanical methods, he added, were impractical. Treatments of plants with sulphur, in his opinion, promise the most worthwhile results.

Mr. Lowden thought greater cooperation of farmers is needed and Andrew McShane, mayor of New Orleans, in his welcoming address, stressed the apparent necessity for greater federal assistance. Senator Ransdell urged creation of a permanent organization to be composed of leaders chosen from producers, manufacturers and consumers to coordinate a permanent campaign of eradication.

Mr. Lowden, who was a candidate for the republican presidential nomination in 1920 and who is regarded as a possible candidate next year, declared the American farmer never had gone through a more trying time than during the last three years. He urged greater cooperation in marketing organizations, which would enable tillers of the soil to work in greater unison on producing methods and measures to eliminate pests.

"The agricultural problem," he said, "is not a class problem. It involves the very existence of our institutions. No man can contemplate the future of America with assurance unless America is to remain fundamentally an agricultural nation."

"Now is the time for the farmers of America to show their loyalty to their organizations and to give their support to marketing cooperative societies. The latter are beginning, for the first time in the business history of America to obtain recognition by the business world."

Report of Committee

The special investigating committee appointed yesterday and which labored far into the night on a set of recommendations to be presented before the general conference as a basis upon which to work, held another session this forenoon and completed its task. The committee heard every one who had any information or offer concerning methods of fighting the weevil.

The report regarding the weevil: 1.—Where there is evidence of heavy hibernated weevils, and before the

[The Lost Chord (Sullivan) Louise Homer]

[Quiéreme Mucho (Love Me Deeply) Tito Schipa]
[A la orilla de un palmar (Beside the Palm) Tito Schipa]		929	1.50

If you demand beauty of sentiment in your music, you will find it in these two Mexican love songs, in Spanish, by this marvelous young tenor who never sings a note in cold blood.

Melodious Instrumental

[Natoma-Dagger Dance (Hobert) Victor Herbert's Orchestra]		55200	1.50
[Indian Summer (Hobert) Victor Herbert's Orchestra]

Two remarkably fine and remarkably contrasting numbers for the full orchestra, directed by the composer. The Natoma dagger-dance with its aboriginal theme, and the drowsy and soothing "Indian Summer."

Light Vocal Selections

[When the Bell in the Lighthouse Rings Wilfred Glenn]		19116	.75
[Bells of the Sea Wilfred Glenn]

The seacoast has been little heard from of late years in American popular songs, but here are two excellent seacoast songs, by a ringing bass voice with great clangorous bells.

[Dreamy Melody Sterling Trio]		19150	.75
[I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland Helen Clark-Lewis James]

Popular waltz songs. The "Dreamy Melody" which has so inspired composer and lyrics is Drigo's "Serenade," introduced as an orchestral interlude. "I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland" introduces Bartlett's "Dream."

Dance Records

[What Do You Do Sunday, Mary?—Fox Trot Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra]		19145	.75
[Chansonette—Fox Trot Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra]

Finished musically fox trots. "What Do You Do Sunday, Mary?" has unusual features. "Chansonette" is a number that will touch the heartstrings of discriminating dancers.

[Easy Melody—Fox Trot The Benson Orchestra of Chicago]		19147	.75
[In a Covered Wagon With You—Fox Trot The Benson Orchestra of Chicago]

Two of the greatest fox trot records ever made. "Easy Melody" is indeed easy going—smooth yet lively. "In a Covered Wagon With You" is in more riotous vein.

[Tell All the Folks in Kentucky—Fox Trot Charles Dornberger and His Orchestra]		19148	.75
[Midnight Rose—Fox Trot The Benson Orchestra of Chicago]

"Tell All the Folks in Kentucky" is a well-played standard big hit fox trot with a lyric sung by Vernon Dalhart. "Midnight Rose" is full of color and makes a most romantically beautiful record.

KIWANIS LEADER RAPPS "YELLOW"

Columbus, Ga., October 25.—A note of warning to the "yellows" of the country that the "yellows" were more to be feared than the "reds," was sounded here today by International President Edmund Arras, at the convening of the fourth annual convention of Georgia Kiwanis clubs.

Business Course Wonderful, Writes Miss Jewell Crawford After Finishing Shorthand at Southern Business College

vonnia.

Shorthand and Bookkeeping are the stepping-stones to "Business Success."

"Everybody is realizing this, and it looks like everybody, almost, is planning to learn these most important branches at the Southern Shorthand and Business University, where the most practical and up-to-date systems and methods are used. The attendance now is larger than ever before in the history of this school, but new pupils are enrolling every Monday, quite a number having arranged to begin on October 29th and November 5th."

When Miss Jewell Crawford left her home for Atlanta to take a business course, she enrolled at the Southern Shorthand and Business University, and was then offered a splendid position by a large cotton dealer, W. C. Mason, at her home town, La-vonnia. She has only been at work a short time, but she is delighted with her position and her employer is well pleased with her work, as shown in the following letter, just received from Miss Crawford:

La-
vonnia, Ga., Oct. 25, 1923.
"A. C. Briscoe, President,
Southern Shorthand and Business University,
Atlanta, Ga."

"Dear Sir: Just a short letter to thank you for your kindness to me during my stay with you in school. I feel that what you and the other teachers have done for me has helped me wonderfully. I shall always be grateful to the Southern Business College, and you may be quite sure that I will give your school an honorable mention wherever I go."

"I am working now, and my employer dictated quite a number of letters to me today, and I have finished them and have them ready to sign. He said that he was well pleased with my work. I just know that I am going to like my work fine."

Wishing you worlds of success reference to "yellow" meant those people who lack patriotism in sufficient quantity to fight the spread of communism and the advance of the reds in the United States. His address was the feature of the morning session of the convention.

The convention got under way shortly after 10 o'clock in the building class room of the First Baptist church, the pastor of which is the chaplain of the Columbus Kiwanis club. There are several hundred delegates from all sections of Georgia present. The majority of these arrived this morning and registered at a local hotel which has been designated as headquarters. A number of ladies, wives of the visiting Kiwanians, are here and are being entertained.

District Governor Frank M. Oliver, of Savannah, called the meeting to order and president during the morning's deliberations. There were a number of Kiwanis songs led by George S. Hamburger, of the local club. Jules Brazil, of the Toronto, Canada, club was also a leader in the singing. Past President Rhodes Brown, of the Columbus club, and Mayor J. Homer Dimon welcomed the delegates. Henry J. Heinz, of Atlanta, international vice president, responded.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon automobiles took all Kiwanians and guests to Fort Benning, where they are the guests of Commanding General Walter H. Gordon, to witness an extensive demonstration by the soldiers of the infantry school. A supper was served the visitors following the demonstration at the 96,000-acre school.

NEW OFFICERS TO BE CHOSEN TODAY.

Columbus, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Over three hundred Kiwanians were on the convention floor in the building's classroom of the First Baptist church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock when District Governor Frank M. Oliver, of Savannah, called the fourth annual state convention of Georgia Kiwanis clubs to order.

The first day's session of the convention was featured during the morning with the addresses of the international president, Edmund F. Arras, Henry J. Heinz, international first vice president, from Atlanta; John W. Bennett, of Waycross, who was asked by Governor Oliver to take the floor as a "pinch hitter" to make the response to the addresses of welcome, when it was feared that Mr. Heinz would not arrive in time, and the brief addresses of Rhodes Brown, past president of the Columbus club, and Mor J. Homer Dimon.

Shortly after the noon hour Governor Oliver read a telegram from International Trustee Victor M. Johnson, an official representative of the Kiwanis international, who was scheduled to make an address during the morning, expressing his regret at not being able to attend the convention because of illness in his family.

The second day of the convention will open at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning, and will be taken up with reports from several committees. In the afternoon will come the election of district officers for 1924, as well as the naming of the next convention city.

CHIEF ASKS TAB ON AUTOS PASSING STANDING CARS

In response to a request from Chief of Police James L. Beavers, P. L. Butler, vice president and general operating manager of the Georgia Railway & Power company, has requested all motorists and conductors to report to the chief the license numbers of all automobiles passing street cars while taking on or letting off passengers or passing on the wrong side of street cars.

Chief Beavers wrote Mr. Butler requesting that the license numbers of motorists violating traffic laws be taken by trainmen in the absence of police officers in order that cases may be made against all offenders. Mr. Butler promptly acceded to the request of the chief.

COMMITTEE NAMED ON RESOLUTIONS ON GILLIAM'S DEATH

Judge John D. Hutcheson, of DeKalb superior court, has appointed a committee to draw resolutions memorializing the late R. F. Gilliam, member of the Atlanta city council from the twelfth ward and former mayor of Kirkwood, who died last Monday.

The committee is composed of the following DeKalb citizens: J. J. Steele, Charles D. McKinney, W. F. Buchanan, Asa Warren Candler, Stiles Hopkins, William Schley Howard, Robert S. W. Ramsey, Hugh Burgess, Hooper Alexander, P. K. Bruns, Carl Hutcheson and Carl Gueiss.

NEW FEDERAL PEN WARDEN TO BEGIN HIS DUTIES NOV. 1

A. E. Sartain, of Columbus, Ohio, who was recent appointed as warden of the Atlanta federal prison, arrived in Atlanta Thursday, and will take over his new duties beginning November 1. Mr. Sartain succeeds Warden J. C. Dyche, who has accepted a position with the federal prohibition forces in Oklahoma.

"GUILTY DAY" IS SET Accused in Savannah To Enter Pleas.

Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Monday, November 5 has been set aside by Judge W. H. Barrett, federal judge of the southern division, for the receiving pleas of guilty in the court here. To date seventy-eight defendants have signified their intention of entering pleas of guilty to violation of the prohibition laws.

COUNCILMAN CASSELLS MAY SUCCEED GILLIAM

J. L. Cassells, councilman from the twelfth ward whose term expires in January, may be asked by friends in council to resign before the next regular meeting and to stand for re-election for the unexpired term of R. F. Gilliam, who died Monday and whose term continues until January 1, 1925.

Councilman-elect House was named in the September primary to succeed Mr. Cassells, who did not stand for re-election. He probably would be elected to serve the remaining two months of Cassells term, should the latter resign and offer for Mr. Gilliam's place.

Neither Councilman Cassells nor Alderman J. R. Bachman, remaining members of the twelfth ward delegation, would discuss the probable successor of Mr. Gilliam, deferring action until later out of respect for their late colleague.

Council's custom has been to leave selection of a man for an unexpired term entirely to the choice of the delegation from the ward in which the vacancy exists.

Injured in Blaze.

Athens, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Ed Sims, Mayfield citizen, is in the General hospital with injuries which may prove serious as a result of being hit by flying debris in the big fire at Mayfield early Monday morning.

Mr. Sims was struck in the breast. Extent of his injuries has not been determined, according to hospital attendants.

Athens Bond Vote.

Athens, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Street improvements costing $50,000 are planned by city authorities, if a bond issue for that amount is approved here on December 5, the date set by city council. The street to be improved will connect one of the main thoroughfares of the city leading to Macon.

Old-Time Fiddlers Gather For Annual Meeting Today

Anyone whose business takes him within three blocks of the auditorium today will soon learn that something out of the ordinary is under way, and if the old-fashioned circuit riders who used to declare that "hades is filled with fiddlers" were to happen that way he would feel assured that those regions had overflowed. For there will be fiddlers there from all over Georgia, on hand for the opening of the big Georgia Old Time Fiddlers' convention tonight.

They have been gathering at the Auditorium every fall for 10 years, holding a reunion, swapping yarns, and picking up new tunes to take home and play at the corn shuckings and barn dances. For as a pianist goes to Chicago or Boston for a post-graduate course with a famous master, so does the Georgia fiddler attend the Atlanta convention.

The fiddlers will gather early Friday morning, and will stay in the afternoon the auditorium will be a riot of sound as the "boys" begin to practice for the night and Saturday night. More than 60 of them are entered for the championship of Georgia, and it is probable that many others will turn up to enter their names at the last moment. "Fiddlin'" John Carson will be there, and Gid Tanner, "Tom Cat" Payne, of Fannin county, R. M. Stanley, of Dacula, and W. G. Keith, of Gainesville, will be formidable contenders for the championship title now held by A. A. Graves, of Tallapoosa, and Savannah is sending a contestant for the first time.

The sessions of the convention are open to the public, tickets being sold to defray the expenses of the musicians. These can be had at the store of the Cable Piano company or the auditorium box office, at 35 and 60 cents. A special matinee will be given Saturday afternoon, and a country dance will be held after the Saturday night session, with the music furnished by the Lick Skillet orchestra, of Cobb county.

Concert Series Single Tickets On Sale Today

The single ticket sale for the concert series at the Auditorium today will soon learn that something out of the ordinary is under way, and if the old-fashioned circuit riders who used to declare that "hades is filled with fiddlers" were to happen that way he would feel assured that those regions had overflowed. For there will be fiddlers there from all over Georgia, on hand for the opening of the big Georgia Old Time Fiddlers' convention tonight.

A very large preliminary demand for seats to the Rains concert on October 29, and to the Padetewski recital on November 28, is reported by officials of the club.

Other artists who will be heard include Louis Gravenure, on December 11; Erika Morini, on January 24; and the Ukrainian Chorus, on March 19. Tickets to any of the future concerts can be reserved beginning on Friday. The sale will close Tuesday.

Rosa Rains, dramatic soprano, and Giacomo Rimini, baritone, of the Chicago Opera company, open the season next Tuesday night at the Auditorium.

Seats for the Rains concert, also that of the Ukrainian Chorus, will range in price from $3 to $1.25. The Padetewski tickets will be $4 to $1.50. Other concerts will cost from $2 to $1.

Plan Campaign For Extermination Of DeKalb Rats

A campaign to exterminate rats in DeKalb county, fostered by the DeKalb Chamber of Commerce, will begin on November 15 and last until April 1, 1924. Dr. Wiley S. Ansley, chairman of a special committee announced Thursday.

Other members of the committee include: W. S. Elkin, president of the DeKalb chamber, and E. P. McGee, farm demonstration agent for DeKalb county.

Prizes of $10 for first, and $5 for second, in each school, will be paid to those killing the most rats. Principals of schools have agreed to keep a record of the rats killed and forward reports to the committee.

JERSEY SCHOOL KIDS FORMING DRUG HABIT

Jersey City, N. J., October 25.—Children in Hudson county schools are being made victims of the drug habit by peddlers who use the schools to develop their future clientele, juvenile court Judge Thomas I. Meaney, Jr., told members of the attendance officers association at the annual meeting last night.

"Drug peddlers are going through our public schools, and making drug addicts," he said. "I have the victims of this heinous crime before me as delinquents from time to time."

The strongest measures should be taken to stamp out the practice and to protect children he said.

HEADS OF BANKRUPT FIRM ARE INDICTED

Cincinnati, October 25.—George H. Beazall and William H. Chatfield, Jr., of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Beazall & Chatfield, of this city, were indicted today by the Hamilton county grand jury. The concern failed last April for more than $1,000,000. The firm of Beazall & Chatfield first went into the hands of a receiver in the common pleas court and a few days later was thrown into bankruptcy in the United States district court. The failure is reported to have been caused by selling short of the New York market.

CHICAGO IS SEEKING PARTY CONVENTION

Chicago, October 25.—Chicago is in the field for the Democratic National convention, according to business men and democratic leaders who have begun a campaign to bring the corollary and have started a fund of $100,000.

A joint committee of business men and women named by George Brennan and Martin J. O'Brien, democratic leaders, will carry on the campaign, it was stated. Chicago's last democratic convention was in 1896.

For Great Strength USE CONCRETE BRICK

Concrete is used wherever great building strength and permanence is required. Atlanta's skyscrapers, hotels, factories, schools and streets are built wholly or in part of concrete to meet modern demands for strength and permanence, beauty and comfort.

You can utilize this proven strength and permanence in building your own home.

CONCRETE BRICK bond with Portland Cement mortar so strongly that the result is practically a monolithic wall.

One CONCRETE BRICK will support a load of 22 tons. Why build your home of inferior materials when you can utilize this tremendous building strength at reasonable cost?

Great Fire-resisting Qualities

Portland Cement is burned at a heat of 2800 degrees, a temperature higher than used in making steel. CONCRETE BRICK, because of Portland Cement, are Strength and Permanence plus Fire Protection—three qualities you require in a home.

CONCRETE BRICK are always the same shape and size. They never shrink, warp or twist. They lie evenly, requiring less mortar to lay. Build of CONCRETE BRICK for permanence.

BRITISH CABINET UNITED ON PLANS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Plymouth, England, October 25.—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in his address at the unionist party conference here today, said that the cabinet was absolutely united in regard to Great Britain's foreign affairs and that the ministers were determined to have the voice of England behind them in whatever they were going to do regarding Germany.

Mr. Baldwin said he had asked the French premier, M. Poincaré, "to consider for himself, for us and for the world," before he refused the invitation to consider means of reparations. The prime minister declared that he was awaiting a reply before he could discuss the matter further.

The premier asserted that the government had a definite policy regarding reparations, debts, security for the allies and fulfillment by Germany of her obligations. To secure common action, however, he added, was a much more important matter than policy.

The government, said the premier, had not followed up its recent note to France because it had been informed that the German resistance in the Ruhr was about to break down, and also because the premiers of the British dominions were on their way to London for the imperial conference. Now the premiers had met and it was the voice of the united empire that spoke.

Mr. Baldwin declared that the government did not intend to proceed in the direction of currency inflation, and said that no such project had been considered.

$12,000,000 PAYMENT IN TOBACCO MERGER

New York, October 25.—The American Tobacco company announced today it had completed plans to take over the manufacturing properties of the Tobacco Products corporation under an agreement through which it would acquire its trademarks, supplies, plants and equipment for a period of 99 years. The transfer involves the payment to the Tobacco Products corporation of about $12,000,000 and a guarantee to pay the corporation $2,500,000 annually.

Runaway Youth Reserves Story For His Mother

Oklahoma City, Okla., October 25.—

In the solemn sanctity of a little old fashioned home in Troy Ala., a mother, aged beyond her years by sorrow, will soon clasp to her bosom her 16-year-old son, whom she believed dead.

And Ralph Saxton, the son, who a year ago seized with the wanderlust and the lure of the "big top" made his escape from Eldora, Iowa, reformatory and roamed through the middle west with a carnival, is rushing to her ready to sob out his story to the only one whom he says "understands me."

Last June a mutilated body of a youth was found near State Center, Iowa. The jacket worn by the dead youth was the same as was worn by Saxton when he made his escape. So the body was sent to the family plot. For weeks the sorrow-stricken mother conducted a daily pilgrimage to the grave. Then one day a letter came from Ralph and it was post marked from Omaha, Neb.

A torn between her grief and perplexed by the letter, Mrs. Saxton began a hunt for the wandering boy. But no trace could be found.

When he applied for assistance at welfare headquarters here he was immediately taken in charge and his parents notified.

He was questioned regarding the mistake in identity and wrong burial made by his mother, but refused to talk.

"I'll tell mother everything," he replied with a tone of finality which silenced further questions.

Saxton declared he is tired of roaming about the country and will return voluntarily to the reformatory after he has spent a few days with his mother.

Negro Slayer Sought.

Louis, La., October 25.—A negro, alleged to have shot and killed Howard Glenn, another negro, during a quarrel Wednesday night was the object of a search Thursday by police. Lesley vanished immediately after the shooting it is said.

Halloween observance is thought to be of pagan origin.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY BARED BY WOMAN

Cincinnati, October 25.—A triple tragedy was uncovered today when John C. Hersh, Sr., 46, his wife, Martha Wilson Hersh and their 13-year-old son, John, Jr., were found dead in their apartment in the Norfolk building, in the downtown district. All three had bullet wounds through their heads. The mother and son were lying side by side on the bed and a gun was in the right hand of the senior Hersh.

The discovery was made by Mrs. Anna Wilson, a sister-in-law, who returned from services at a church where she acts as an organist. After Mrs. Wilson had rapped on the door repeatedly without meeting with response she decided to ascend a fire escape and climbed to the eighth floor of the building where the Hersh apartments are located. She found the window unfastened and upon entering the room found the three bodies. She at once notified the police.

A note on a desk in an adjoining room to that in which the crime was committed stated that the letter to which it was attached should be mailed to the addressee. The letter bore the name and address of Mrs. Della Enginger Bowman, this city.

Mrs. Wilson could assign no reason for the tragedy. She said that when she left the home last night Hersh was playing checkers with his family.

Police believed that Hersh shot his wife and son while they were asleep.

Never Late to School.

Los Angeles, October 25.—Josephine Andrea, a senior at Manuel Arts High school, has hung up what is hailed as a new inter-scholastic record for punctuality. In the 13 years since she entered kindergarten she has never been late to school.

Tot Dies in Fire.

New Orleans, October 25.—A three-year-old baby was burned to death in a fire which destroyed four residences at Bucktown, New Orleans suburb, early today. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brondum, Jr.

Tax Commission Likely to Reach Early Agreement

BY RALPH T. JONES.

While members of the tax commission and Governor Clifford Walker have as yet given no indication as to what form their report and recommendations to the general assembly will take, it was stated Thursday afternoon, after a lengthy executive session, that the report probably will be decided upon, at least in principle, within the next day or two.

Governor Walker stated that the members experienced but little difficulty in agreeing on the basic principles to be incorporated and that it was probable that after these principles are exactly drawn up and adopted, a subcommittee of two or three members would be appointed with authority to draft the final report.

Many forms of tax reform for the state have been submitted to the commission, including an income tax, sales tax, classified and segregated property tax, poll tax and others. It also has been strongly urged that one of the chief faults in Georgia's system is the failure to enforce present laws. It is considered probable that the commission will advocate the creation of an auditing and budget system, with amendment of the laws, so as to create proper machinery for the collection of the taxes, now on the statute books.

Governor Walker stated Thursday afternoon that never, in all his experience, had he witnessed a group of men who worked together in greater harmony than did his tax commission. The twelve members have grown to regard themselves with a friendship closer than the great majority of men in the government.

At the meeting Thursday morning, it was decided that this mutual friendship must not be allowed to wane after the work of the commission is ended and, with this object in view, it was decided that the members should have an annual reunion. The first of these, to be held one year from Thursday, will be at the home of W. Anderson, Jr., president of the Bibb Manufacturing company, and one of the most popular men on the commission.

"Just where the second will be held," said the governor, "I don't know. Every one of the eleven invited us to their home for the second reunion and it seems well we have to draw straws for it."

The governor stated that it was not likely that the report finally adopted would be lengthy, but it would contain, in briefest language possible, the basic principles on which the commission, after its months of study and voluminous hearings, believes the tax system can be best reformed for the future prosperity and welfare of the state.

HEIGHT OF DWARFS RAISED SIX INCHES BY NEW TREATMENT

Chicago, October 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Stature of dwarfs of a certain type has been and is being increased six inches within the first year of treatment, according to Dr. F. N. G. Starr, of Toronto, Ont., who is here attending the congress of the American college of surgeons.

Dr. Starr explained that he referred to dwarfs because of insufficient thyroid solution and frequently afflicted with goitre, indicated, he said, "It has been found in districts where fifty per cent of the population suffer from goitre that two administrations of iodine a year by a competent physician, will overcome almost all cases of simple goitre in school children. The cases of the dwarfs, known as cretins, are treated by feeding them a solution of goitre's thyroid. Iodine treatment of mothers with goitre prevents goitre in children, in inherited cases."

"Hot applications for forty-eight hours continuously following the solar plexus blow of an abdominal operation," said Dr. Carl Wilson, of Palo Alto, Calif., "lands the patient back on his feet on the ring. A ten per cent solution of hot magnesium sulphate is used, restoring normal conditions within thirty-six hours."

KLAN SPEECH TOO HOT FOR FIRE CHIEFS' MEET

Richmond, Va., October 25.—A. Gray Gilmer, an Oklahoma City attorney, was halted in the midst of his address before the International Association of Fire Engineers here today and his talk stricken from the program when he launched into an attack on the Ku Klux Klan after he had described Governor John C. Walton, of Oklahoma, as a "tyrant."

Forty applause greeted the railing of President C. W. Ringer that the address could not be continued.

Mr. Gilmer, a native of Bristol, Va., but lately a resident of Oklahoma City, was on the program for a talk on "Oklahoma City, Her Past, Present and Future." He said that the title on the program was erroneous and that he was traveling on "my own for the purpose of correcting impressions of Oklahoma."

He then assailed Governor Walton and turned to the Ku Klux Klan which he said he considered like Walton, "innocent and free America."

As he continued to his attack on the Klan, Chief Tom Haney of the Jacksonville, Fla., fire department, interrupted declaring the speech was out of order in that "this is no place for religious or political discussion."

The chair ruled that the speech was improper and Mr. Gilmer sat down.

SIXTY ARMED PIRATES ROB CHINESE STEAMER

Hong Kong, October 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sixty pirates, heavily armed Tuesday night held up and looted the Chinese steamer Sanning en route from Hong Kong to Kowloon, seriously wounding Captain McKee and Chief Officer Spittler, and robbed more than 300 Chinese passengers, many of the latter having just returned from America with the savings of a number of years.

The vessel had just entered the channel near Hong Kong when the pirates, who were aboard in disguise, overpowered the engine room crew and disarmed two Indian guards. Captain McKee and his chief officer put up a gallant fight but fell before a fusillade of bullets.

The pirates maintained control of the steamer during the night and in the morning compelled the Chinese crew to row them ashore where they made their escape. The two wounded ships officers were taken to a hospital where their condition is said to be critical.

G.O.P. CHIEFS TALK TO GOV. PINCHOT

Washington, October 25.—Friends of Governor Pinchot attached significance to a conference Thursday at Secretary Mellon's office which was attended by the two Pennsylvania senators, Reed and Pepper, William L. Mellon, Pittsburgh banker and nephew of the secretary, and W. Harry Baker, republican state chairman.

These are all understood to oppose Governor Pinchot for the presidential nomination, and it is believed they discussed plans for sending an unstructured delegation to the republican convention next year. Pinchot's friends intend to put up a fight, however, and the prospects are that the delegation will split.

"It is too early to discuss the question, but reports I have received from practically every county in Pennsylvania make it clear that the Pennsylvania delegation will be in harmony with the recognized republican organization of our state," Senator Reed said. "The delegation will be unpledged to any candidate."

Pinchot picked the regular organization in the primary when he ran for the gubernatorial nomination in 1922. Now the organization is about to declare war on him as a presidential aspirant.

HEROIC NUNS RESCUE 70 GIRLS FROM FLAMES

Pittsburg, October 25.—While fire quickly ravaged the main building of the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy here last night and with firemen vainly struggling for 30 minutes to force water atop Mt. Mercy to fight the flames, 70 school girls from 8 to 17 were rescued without injury from the blazing convent by 15 heroic nuns.

The convent is a few blocks from the building in which David Lloyd George was speaking at the time.

After the girls had made an orderly exit through the smoke filled corridors under the discipline of the nuns, it was found two children were missing. Several of the sisters re-entered the darkened structure and brought them to safety. One, a tot of 7, was asleep in the dormitory.

While the flames ate into the historic old structure and tens of thousands attracted from all over the city looked on, Mother Superior Sister Miran conducted the evening devotion.

Total damage was placed by convent officials at $700,000.

THOMPSON DENIES GIFTS TO FORBES

St. Louis, October 25.—J. W. Thompson, railroad and general contractor, today stated here that he knew nothing of the charges made by Elias H. Mortimer before a senate investigating committee regarding alleged advances of money to Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau. Mr. Thompson asserted his firm never made a bid for nor received a contract for construction of a veterans' hospital.

Troops have occupied Corinth and the complete failure of the revolution is assured, according to advices received from the Peloponnese this morning. Mutineers estimated at 1,500 were under command of General Metaxas, at Corinth. Prior to their capture the government announced that one thousand mutineers in the cities of Drama and Xanthi had surrendered and that the city of Cavalla had been recaptured, eradicating the movement in Thrace.

POSSE OF 800 FAILS TO FIND MISSING TOT

Waldron, Ark., October 25.—Virtually no hope was held today for the safety of Pearl Turner, 3-year-old daughter of a mountaineer, whose disappearance from her home a week ago has baffled a posse of 800 men, who, for five days, have been engaged in a systematic search of the forests of Scott county for the "little Red Riding Hood of White Oak mountain."

The strength of the posse was diminished today, when many of the searchers, discouraged in their efforts to locate the child, abandoned the hunt and returned to their homes. Leaders of the little band of faithful men which has kept ceaseless vigil in the mountains since last Saturday, expressed the belief that the child never would be found alive, if at all.

When bloodhounds failed to pick up a trail yesterday, many of the posse men became discouraged and gave up the search. Others abandoned the hills today, and Boy Scouts who joined the posse yesterday, have been ordered back to Fort Smith.

GEORGIAN IS LEADER OF SINGERS IN CLUB

Clinton, S. C., October 25.—(Special.)—There is going to be a great deal of power unleashed over the upper part of the state if the old proverb "music hath power to soothe the savage breast" is a correct one.

At any rate there is going to be a great deal of music, for John Townsend, well known musical leader of Anderson, has been secured to coach the glee club of the Presbyterian college of South Carolina.

College officials here feel fortunate in having secured a man of Mr. Townsend's ability and experience to coach the glee club.

Joseph Stokes, Jr., of Bainbridge, Georgia, is the student leader of the organization and plans to assist Mr. Townsend in bringing the glee club to a high state of development in the shortest possible time. Tours will be taken over the state during the college year.

COMPLETE FAILURE

Athens, October 25.—Government troops have occupied Corinth and the complete failure of the revolution is assured, according to advices received from the Peloponnese this morning.

Mutineers estimated at 1,500 were under command of General Metaxas, at Corinth. Prior to their capture the government announced that one thousand mutineers in the cities of Drama and Xanthi had surrendered and that the city of Cavalla had been recaptured, eradicating the movement in Thrace.

"I've Got to Do Something with These Old Floors"

SHE looked at her wood floors ruefully. They were battered and bruised and dusty and shabby. "I've got to do something with these old floors," she said. Her thoughts ran back to years of scrubbing and staining and painting, and her heart sank at the prospect.

Then suddenly, like an inspiration, came the really worth-while thought: "Why not put down linoleum and have a floor that will never need to be refinished?"

STATE IS QUERIED ON HIGHWAY HELP

Blairsville, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—The Nacoochee-Hawkesville Highway association has directed the following pertinent and important inquiry at the state highway commission regarding its promised cooperation in the building of mountain roads approaching and through the national forests, the United States forestry service agreeing to put up the major portion of the funds. All the state is required to do is to cooperate in equipment, explosives, etc., to the limit of its legal rights, as the counties have agreed to do their work in matching the federal forest fund.

Letter Is Given.
The letter to Chairman Holder goes right to the heart of the matter and gives facts and figures and cooperates five statements that will demand of the highway department an expression of its present attitude in the premises. The letter follows:
Hon. John N. Holder, Chairman, Georgia Highway Commission, State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.
My dear Mr. Holder: You will recall that in the summer of 1922, the United States forestry service, through District Forester F. W. Reed, of Washington, D. C., gave notice to you and to the public through The Atlanta Constitution that a special fund of $40,000 had been allocated for the construction of forest roads in the Cherokee National forest area of Georgia. It was later brought out that this money would have to be matched in some way with state funds, and the matter has rested at that until recently when this scenic highway association made a suggestion for creating a state fund for your commission to use in matching the forest service special fund of $40,000 on a reasonable basis. The plan suggested was for the three local counties of Union, Lumpkin and Lumpkin, to put up $5,000 each from their own tax funds as soon as available, and for the Georgia State Highway commission to put up at least the equivalent of $5,000 in explosives and tools, thus creating a special fund of $20,000, which is believed to be enough to make the forest road money available by having the legal requirements for "matching in a reasonable way." To this suggestion, the three counties referred to expressed their willingness, and the county officials of Union and Lumpkin very promptly notified the state highway engineer to this effect. Pannett county agreed to put up $5,000 for explosives and tools, provided that credit was received on this for the actual road construction already completed by that county leading up the Toccoa river into the government lands of that county. This gives the fact that Pannett county has taken a rightful position in the matter, but the matter of putting up the money for a road, or a road, seems to be for later consideration. It makes it clear that the state is willing to do her part. Letters from the officials of these three counties were sent to your commission or to the state highway engineer covering this matter, and copies of these letters were printed in The Atlanta Constitution, and copies of same are now before me.

Ask Tools, Explosives.
Therefore, taking the willingness of these county officials to do their suggested part as a basis to work on, we believe that the public would be very glad to know that your commission is willing to contribute at least the equivalent of $5,000 in explosives and tools for this important work, and that you are also willing to accept the allocation from each county of the special state fund for matching the special forest road fund. And also that you will handle this matter with the United States forestry service promptly and endeavor to make the use of special state fund go as far as it will in making the said forest road fund available for road construction in opening up the Cherokee National Forest lands on the Toccoa basin. We are sure of your interest in this matter, both from the standpoint of helping the local counties in every way possible, and from the standpoint of opening up these government lands in every way possible for the recreational grounds in the mountains that the public is interested in.

This scenic highway association is also glad to receive copies of recent letters to you from the officials of Lumpkin and Union counties, in which these officials request your commission to accept the sums of $5,000 each from the gas tax funds of these two counties and also request you to handle the matter for them with the forest service officials, thus supplementing these amounts as "on account" for this creating a special state fund. We feel assured in advance that you will do all in your power to give the public the benefit of the wonderful playground advantages on the government lands on the Toccoa basin, and now that these counties have some funds for the first time that can be allocated to begin the development of a forest road system between State Highway No. 2 with the proper connections with these state routes, we feel sure that you will gladly cooperate in every way possible for giving campers and tourists a easy access to these government lands.

Waiting on State.
This past week the forest supervisor of the Cherokee National forest has visited these government lands on the Toccoa basin and expressed himself to local citizens and residents here in Union county that this whole matter of forest road development work "seems to be waiting for the state highway officials to make the next move with some state funds." This forest official is now building roads on the government lands in Tennessee and from what we gather from the local forest ranger on the Toccoa basin, there is considerably more forest road money available at this time if the work of grading the logical approaches to the Toccoa basin should be begun at an early date for the necessary improvement work on this part of the Cherokee forest in Georgia.

It is the belief of the local forest service officials, and the county officials of Lumpkin and Union, that a 14-foot graded road for several miles on either side of the Wolfpen and Woody gaps in these two counties would be in sufficiently with good gravelable roads as to make the development of a forest road system between State Highway No. 2 with the proper connections with these state routes, and that this could be done without expending all of the money now available from government and county sources, provided the state of Georgia will only supply some necessary explosives and tools through your highway commission. This scenic highway association recognizes the fact that the government prefers to deal with state authorities rather than with county units, and since these county officials have now placed this matter in your hands we feel that you will have further delay and ascertain from the forest service what "he" is in position to do here in Georgia regarding their original proposition of allocating $40,000 for this important work.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT SOUGHT IN PALMETTO
Palmetto, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—With the aim of crystallizing community spirit and launching Palmetto upon a more progressive program of improvement, a reception was given to citizens of the town last night by E. P. Thornton at his store here. More than 200 persons were present at the entertainment.

Speeches along the line of community advancement and civic pride were made by D. R. Ballard, W. H. Austin and Charlie Jackson as well as by two negroes, Sterling Brooks and Will Slaughter.

Music of all kinds, ranging from simple melodies to the most modern jazz, was rendered by a group of Palmetto boys. Refreshments were served throughout the evening to the crowd that assembled. Some feature dancing was done by "Samba," the carnival king, who executed the most difficult steps with ease.

Urging practice of boosting instead of knocking, Mr. Thornton, in a communication to the citizens of Palmetto, said: "In addition to application, energy and perseverance, it takes muscle, money and brains to accomplish anything in this world."

MERCER'S DEBATERS HAVE NEW SCHEDULE

Macon, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Engagements with Furman university of Greenville, S. C., the University of Richmond, Va., and Stetson university of DeLand, Fla., have practically been closed for debates with Mercer university debating teams for the 1923-24 season, it was announced today by Dr. J. H. Moore, chairman of the Mercer debating council.

Debates between Richmond, Furman and Mercer will probably be in triangular arrangement, each college debating against a team from the other two on the same day. This was the plan used last year between the three colleges.

Negotiations are on with Baylor university, Waco; the University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Howard university at Birmingham and Mississippi college at Clinton, Miss. A triangle was maintained last year between Mississippi, Howard and Mercer, but it is improbable that such will be the plan this time.

Dr. Moore announces that a call will be made November 15 for all students wishing to try out for the debating teams. The number last year was over sixty and will probably reach 100 when the call next is given.

Rotary Keynote Is Fellowship At Big Conclave
Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Rotarians from a score of towns in Georgia, Florida and even Alabama, gathered here today for an inter-city conference and fellowships meeting which lasted from before breakfast till the trains pulled out tonight after regular dinner.

Atlanta, Macon, Augusta, Columbus, West Point, Valdosta, Gainesville, Athens, Quitman, Waynesboro, Thomasville, LaGrange, Milledgeville, Okefenokee, Orlando and Ocala were among the clubs represented.

Breakfast at the De Soto warmed the delegates up to the fellowship degree and fines of a quarter each reduced them to calling members by their right nicknames, while songs suggested the stinging of the numerous fines. "Purebred" Kendrick Guernsey, of Orlando, district governor, announced the rule of fines and fined himself first of all for calling "Bill" Lanier, of West Point, "Will" Lanier, of LaGrange.

E. George Butler, head of the Savannah club, opened the meeting, and Past International President Frank Mulholland, of Toledo, Ohio, made the chief address.

Emphasis was laid on the adaptability, as proved by success, of Rotary for the smaller towns. Augusta, Valdosta and Orlando Rotas entertained the delegates with songs and sketches. After the meeting in the Bijou theater the entire party stored in the million-dollar Victory drive and Three highway to the seacoast where a shore dinner and a literary exhibition by the Fort Screven soldiers of the old eighth infantry entertained the visitors. A banquet tonight concluded the day's doings.

ALLEGED ROBBERS OF ATLANTAN FACE SEVERAL CHARGES
Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Robbery charges against a sextette of Savannah men by D. W. Howell, a roofing expert of Atlanta, head a multiplicity of charges and invoked several courts here today.

Howell complained to the police that in a store on West Broad street he was knocked down and robbed of a considerable sum.

M. Wilkenson, John Richbourg, J. L. Dixon, Raymond Lovett, Tom Murphy and Joe Simms were bound over to the superior court on robbery charges, their bonds being fixed at $2,000. The men denied the charges.

Tom Murphy, whom Howell declared had whisky in his place, also denied that charge, but prohibition officers immediately took out warrants for Murphy, Dixon and Simms, charging violation of the prohibition laws. They will appear before the U. S. commissioner.

Howell charged that the men robbed him when he declined to pay for seven bottles of liquor which he declares he did not receive.

VOTERS OF BIBB REFUSE RAISES TO TWO JUDGES
Macon, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Bibb county voters today defeated two constitutional amendments submitted to them by the last legislature calling for increases in the salaries of the judges of the municipal court and the city court of Macon.

Under the amendments Judge Will Gunn of the city court would have had his salary increased from $5,000 to $6,000 and Judge Hugh Chambers of the municipal court would have been given an increase from $3,600 to $4,800.

The increase for the judge of the city court was defeated by a majority of 391 votes and for the municipal court by a majority of 320 votes.

When the amendments were brought before the legislature the representatives from this county were divided on them and as a compromise it was decided to leave the matter to the voters of the county. More than 1,300 voters cast ballots, or about one-third of all the registered voters.

Veteran Key Tapper Forsakes Telegraph To Go Into Pulpit
Macon, Ga., October 25.—J. R. Potts, for years an Associated Press telegraph operator, has abandoned the key for the pulpit, according to information brought back today by delegates to the meeting of the Presbytery, which has just concluded its annual session at Presion, Ga.

Mr. Potts, a member of the Columbus, Ga., Evangelical club, was granted a license to preach and was assigned to the East Highlands Presbyterian church in Columbus, Ga. He also becomes representative of the Macon Presbytery, taking the place of Dr. W. H. Chapman, of this city.

EPISCOPALIAN LEADER TO HOLD CONFERENCE
Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Lewis B. Franklin, of New York, vice president and treasurer of the national council of the Episcopal church, will begin Sunday night here a series of conferences upon the plans of the broader church plans as outlined recently for the church in America. The Right Rev. Frederick F. Reese, of the diocese of Georgia, will return from the Sewanee synod at Chattanooga in time to meet with and cooperate with Mr. Franklin in the first conference Sunday, at Christ, St. John's St. Paul's and other churches in Savannah.

ADVERTISE STATE, IS AIM OF DRIVE

Macon, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Answering a call issued several days ago by J. Clay Murphy, president of the Georgia Real Estate Association, more than 25 representatives from business organizations of the state met here today to discuss a program of state-wide advertising and development. All parts of the state were represented.

It was decided that all constructive forces of the state should be united in one general program of advertising and development and it was fully agreed that representatives of chambers of commerce in the various cities of the state should take the leadership in the movement. With that in view, a special committee was appointed and instructed to call a meeting of the chamber of commerce representatives to be held at the Hotel Danmore in Macon, Friday, November 16. Each chamber of commerce in the state will be asked to send five delegates to the meeting, each delegation to include the president, manager and secretary.

The invitation will include all state institutions and organizations who are interested in state-wide development. The committee issuing the invitation is made up of the following men: J. C. Murphy, chairman, representing all the real estate boards; Alfred Newell and B. S. Barker, president and secretary, respectively, of the Macon Chamber of Commerce; A. L. Ausley, of Bainbridge, president of the Georgia Association; F. H. McDonald, manager-director of the Georgia Industrial Bureau; Professor J. E. Carter, representing the state department of agriculture; W. R. Crites, manager of the Home Chamber of Commerce; R. E. L. Neill, manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce; H. F. Plourney, assistant secretary of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce; George B. Clarke, chairman of the land settlement committee of the Ma-

SCULPTOR NAMED FOR LONG STATUE HERE FOR VISIT

J. Massey Rhynde, of New York, widely known sculptor who has been commissioned to carve the statue of Dr. Crawford W. Long, Georgia's noted son and discoverer of anesthesia, for the hall of fame, is the guest of Dr. Joseph Jacobs, prominent Atlantan, who has been active in arranging for the Long statue.

While here Mr. Rhynde will be entertained at the Burns club and will also visit Stone Mountain to witness the Confederate memorial now being carved by Gutzon Borglum.

MARX WILL DISCUSS VEWS OF ZANGWILL

"Zangwill and the Jews in America" will be the subject of Rabbi David Marx in the second of open forum meetings to be conducted at the Temple on South Pryor street, at 11:15 o'clock next Sunday morning. The first of the series of meetings was held last Sunday.

MARINES WILL JOIN SAVANNAH ELK LODGE

Savannah, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—More than fifty officers and men of the Paria Island marines will be initiated into the mysteries of Elkdom in Savannah by the local lodge on November 3. They will come on a specially chartered boat from the Port Royal station, a number of officers and several other men at Paria Island are already members of the Savannah lodge.

H. M. PATTERSON TAKEN BY DEATH

Hyatt M. Patterson, well-known Atlantan, and the oldest funeral director of the south, died suddenly at a local hospital at 1:30 o'clock Thursday morning after a brief illness.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the Atlanta Funeral Directors' association. Services will be held at the First Christian church on Friday afternoon, at which the pastor, Rev. L. O. Bricker, will officiate. Interment will then take place in West View.

The pallbearers and escort will include Asa G. Candler, Sr., W. W. Kingston, D. Duke Cole, Colonel P. H. Brewster, Paul M. Norcross, T. Buford Goodwin, Milton M. Liebman, Philip M. Alston, A. Montgomery, R. P. Milam, D. P. Bullard, John E. Smith, John K. Otley, Dr. C. R. Jolly, B. B. Brumfield, Sam Weyman, Thomas C. Erwin, E. R. Craighhead, C. J. Lewis, Forrest B. Fisher, Jess N. Conch, M. G. Phelan, Byron King, the official board of the First Christian church, the state board of equalizers and Capitol Lodge No. 60, I. O. O. F.

Mr. Patterson, who was 72 years old, had been closely identified with the growth and development of Atlanta for 46 years. While the announcement of his death came quite unexpectedly it was known by his friends that he had been in failing health since the death of his wife on March 12 of this year. It was on a trip to his sister, Mrs. Sara Harrison, of Spencer, Ohio, that he became seriously ill.

His son, Fred Patterson, of 77 Penn avenue, went to Ohio, brought his father back and placed him in a private hospital. His death was attributed to his uncaring sorrowing over his wife to whom he had been wed 45 years.

While he was in Ohio in September he was first ill for two days but refused to notify his son and daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Noble, Jr. He traveled from Spencerville to Vermilion to visit a brother-in-law, Fred Wakefield. It was in his home that Mr. Patterson was stricken and placed in the Elyria hospital, of Elyria, Ohio. He remained there until his son arrived and returned with him to Atlanta.

For more than 30 years Mr. Patterson had been one of the leading funeral directors of the south. His well-known business in Atlanta was founded in 1882.

Mr. Patterson's early life was spent on his father's farm in Morrow county, Ohio, where he was born. He went to school in a little building on his father's plantation. In 1872 he moved to Newburg, now a part of the corporation of Cleveland.

His first years of apprenticeship were served with Charles Thomas and later in September, 1881, he moved to Atlanta where he entered the service of George R. Roaz, local funeral director. In the following year he started in business for himself in a building in the old Markham block. His next location was on Peachtree street near Five Points and it was not until 1904 that he moved into the pretentious quarters on Forsyth street.

He was in charge of the funerals of several of Georgia's best known citizens, including Alexander H. Stephens, Joseph E. Brown, Georgia's famous war governor; Allen D. Candler, Sam Jones, Joseph M. Terrell and many others.

His ability and great tact won him a front place in his profession. For nine years he was president of the Georgia state board of embalmers, he was a member of the National Order of Select Morticians, and in addition served three terms as president of Georgia State Funeral Directors' association.

His standing in the financial world is evidenced by the fact that he was a director of Citizens and Southern bank, the Georgia Savings bank and the Mortgage Bond and Trust company.

Fraternities. He was a member of the First Christian church and was identified with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and the Improved Order of Red Men, the Comanche tribe.

Mr. Patterson was married to Miss Clara Wakefield, who was a southern girl having been born and brought up in Birmingham, Ala. The children of that marriage are Fred Patterson and Mrs. Benjamin Noble, Jr., both of Atlanta.

Surviving Mr. Patterson, besides his son and daughter, are one sister, Mrs. Sarah Harrison, of Spencerville, Ohio; three nephews, John Patterson, of Toledo, and Grant and Charles Harrison, of Spencerville, and a brother-in-law, Fred Wakefield, of Vermilion, Ohio.

NOVEMBER 27 IS SET FOR ATHENS PRIMA

Athens, Ga., October 25.—(Special.) Athenians will nominate Democratic candidates for municipal offices. November 27, the city committee decided Wednesday. A mayor and five aldermen will be nominated for the general election on December 5.

Mayor George C. Thomas is expected to offer for re-election. Three of the aldermen will not run again, it is stated. They are W. C. Thornton, L. Howland and G. C. Armstrong. H. T. Culp and H. B. Heywood will seek re-election, it is said.

Miss Clara Joel Will Soon Leave Forsyth Players

Admission that another shake-up in the membership of the Forsyth Players company is imminent was made Thursday evening by John Crovo, manager of the Lyric theater, following announcement of Miss Clara Joel Thursday afternoon that she is leaving.

Manager Crovo stated that all details of the new contract had been arranged, that it would be impossible to announce changes in the cast definitely for two or three days. He did not state positively that the latest change is to be an amicable one and is not to be marked by any of the sensationalism that developed when Miss Helle Bennett was replaced by Miss Wood in June and John Little by Fred Raymond, Jr., a few weeks later.

"We are simply taking advantage of an opportunity to make changes that we believe will strengthen the company," Mr. Crovo said. "We have booked several expensive plays for the rest of the season, that we cannot produce to best effect unless we have actresses of a special type to suit the parts."

Miss Joel's announcement that she will leave the company was made at the conclusion of a talk to the members of the Atlanta Real Estate board at the weekly luncheon Thursday afternoon. She will go from here to New York to join her husband, William Boyd, who has been playing in a Broadway production.

"I haven't decided definitely what I will do, except that I am going to take a long rest that I need very much," she said. "I have been playing steadily for nearly two years without a break except for five days consumed en route from Los Angeles, Cal. to Atlanta in June. I was a leading woman of the original players, when they opened at the Forsyth theater in March, 1922, playing here for two months. She has been back to succeed Miss Bennett and has been playing here four months since then, participating in the opening performance at the Lyric theater where the players are now located.

None of the men in the company are to leave, Mr. Crovo said.

ALLEGED PAUPER LEAVES $1,733.36; COUNTY WILL SUE

Efforts to recover compensation for boarding and lodging for five years were begun Thursday by County Attorney Charles Shelton against the estate of Mrs. Virginia Denny, who used several months ago at the Fulton county almshouse, and who it was discovered recently, left $1,733.36.

Mrs. Denny was accepted into the county almshouse five years ago upon making a cash payment of $100. She remained there from June 21, 1918, until she died recently. In examining her personal effects recently, officials at the almshouse discovered a sack, two bank books, one of the Atlanta National bank showing a balance of $1,600.08, and the other on the savings department of the Central Bank and Trust company, Mitchell branch, revealing a balance of $223.28.

Mr. Shelton, who is official county attorney, is conducting an investigation of the estate of the woman, to ascertain whether the county can collect board from the woman for a period of five years. According to records in the case Mrs. Denny was friendless and with no relatives. She was received from 25 Elbert street, after investigators had found her in a virtual state of starvation.

PLAQUE IS SENT FOR CORNERSTONE OF BIG MEMORIAL

Dr. Joe P. Bowdoin, grand master of the Georgia lodge of Masons, Thursday mailed to Washington a copper plaque, gift of the Georgia lodge, to be placed beneath the cornerstone of the memorial to George Washington, now being erected by Masons of the nation, at Alexandria, Virginia.

This plaque is four inches square and five-eighths of an inch thick. One side is bears the seal of the grand lodge of Georgia, together with appropriate inscription, and on the reverse the Georgia state seal, with another inscription. The inscription on this plaque will be placed, together with gifts from other grand lodges, in a box which will be sealed on October 30. It will then be placed beneath the cornerstone of the memorial, which is to be laid on November 1.

ATLANTA SCHOOL CHILDREN TO VOTE ON NATIONAL TREE

America's national tree will be elected on November 1, it was announced Thursday by Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, and ballots may be obtained from the school department. All school children and other residents of the United States are eligible to participate in the balloting.

Some tree, native to American soil, is to be designated the national tree as part of the movement to educate the public in the necessity of forest conservation. The south is expected to vote heavily for the long leaf yellow pine.

Two-thirds of the nation's wealth depends on the forests, Dr. Sutton asserted in urging widespread participation in naming the national tree.

Mrs. George Walker Honored for Work For Big Orchestra

Mrs. George W. Walker, secretary of the Atlanta Symphony association, has been presented with a large silver loving cup as a mark of appreciation from her friends for her untiring work in making the symphony association a success. The presentation took place at the Georgian terrace, October 25.

It was pointed out that Mrs. Walker is probably the person chiefly responsible for the success of the new musical organization in Atlanta and that for months she had devoted her time without thought of reward, to the perfecting of the organization.

The inscription on the cup reads as follows: "To Mrs. George W. Walker, in grateful appreciation of the inspiration and untiring energy that has contributed so greatly to its complete success, October 25, 1923." The date, October 25, is the date of the opening concert given by the orchestra at the Howard theater.

Florence Crittenton Home; Community Home for Girls

Thirty-six years ago the Atlanta Florence Crittenton home, the only welfare institution in Atlanta operating under a charter from the congress of the United States, was established just where it still stands and continues its good work today. Thousands of young women have been received in the home in the years that have intervened since Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett first opened the doors. An average of 100 young women each year are cared for now.

This institution, one of the oldest members of the Community Chest, adheres to the policy of receiving any young woman who needs its help. Some are referred to it by ministers, others by social workers, a few by parents. The only restriction is that the guests must not be incorrigible and must be willing to abide by the rules of the home and must have at least the desire to reform. It is through this ambition that the home does its greater work of reconstructing the lives of young women so that eventually they can leave and go out into the world again as useful and normal members of society.

Supporter of Home.

Mrs. W. F. Crusselle, treasurer of the home, formerly was its president, and is one of its most active supporters.

"It is really wonderful to see the results we can accomplish," said Mrs. Crusselle Thursday. "The nature of the work we do prevents us from reporting it. If it were known, Atlanta would be impressed, as those of us who are associated in the interest of the home are impressed, by the great work that is being done. A great many girls come to us without hope, and after a time go back into the world again, with their future restored."

"The home gives out no infants for adoption. Even the thought of adoption is not contemplated in our plans and methods. The policy of the home is invariably to keep the mother with her child; not only for the sake of the child but also for her good, for we believe there could be no stronger influence than that of an innocent baby upon its mother."

Mrs. J. W. Goldsmith is another volunteer member of the staff and is chairman of the devotional committee. Mrs. Goldsmith conducts services at the home each Sunday and visits it during the week as well. Her influence for good upon the young women is said to be marvelous. In addition to the women who are the officers and committee chairmen of the institution, there is a staff of physicians and specialists comprising ten gynecologists, five dentists, and four eye, ear, nose and throat specialists. The advisory board consists of four local ministers representing as many different denominations, and two laymen.

Supplementary Service.

Three committees that work independently of the board, the chairman of each being a member of the board and its members being otherwise not identified with the home, bring a character of supplementary service that has made many things possible which could not have been afforded from the maintenance fund.

The house committee, through membership dues and through the proceeds of social functions like card parties, has kept the home supplied with furniture and furnishings. For the past seven or eight years none of the maintenance money has been spent for this purpose. The wardrobe committee furnishes all clothing needed for the destitute young women who come into the home. Fully two-thirds of those who enter are unable to pay anything toward the cost of their upkeep and have not sufficient clothing. The wardrobe committee, through efficient conduct of its own work, has been able to supply these necessities, and the board is never concerned regarding them.

The industrial committee furnishes the material with which the young women work while learning plain sewing and fancy work. The articles made in these sewing classes are put up for sale one each year in a bazaar conducted by the home, and with the proceeds of these sales the committee keeps up the orchards and grounds of the home.

In addition to these sources of supply over and above its maintenance expense, the home has been receiving from the Needlework Guild of Atlanta a portion of the bed linen and towels that it needs.

The following are the officers and committee chairmen: Mrs. F. M. Robinson, president; Mrs. A. E. Wheeler, first vice president; Mrs. E. C. Latta, second vice president; Mrs. B. M. Hall, third vice president; Mrs. W. F. Crusselle, treasurer; Mrs. Grier Martin, recording secretary; Mrs. B. M. Hall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. L. Baldwin, Mrs. Fred Moore, Mrs. G. G. Key, Mrs. H. K. Clapp.

Community Home.

A slightly different character of service for Atlanta is performed by the Community Home for Girls, which does not make an industry or nursery in connection with its work. This agency, another member of the Chest, is for the help of young women who seek sympathy and a fresh start back on the road to useful lives. In the past year and a half approximately 60 young women have been cared for by the Community Home for Girls.

Its guests enter voluntarily, and leave voluntarily when they are ready to face the world once more.

Following are the board of directors for the Community Home for Girls: Mrs. F. R. Logan, president; Mrs. J. N. McEachern, first vice president; Mrs. W. A. Albright, second vice president; Mrs. E. L. Pettigrew, treasurer; Mrs. Sommerfield, auditor.

POWER CURTAILMENT TO AFFECT COLUMBUS

Columbus, October 25.—Columbus industries will be indirectly affected if the Georgia Railway and Power company is forced to curtail by how electric power in event the present drought continues, according to R. M. Harding, general manager of the Columbus Electric and Power company, in a statement to the Ledger this morning.

Mr. Harding gave out the information that because of the condition of the river the steam plant of the local company had been running 24-hours during the past two weeks and was still being used the full day. At the present time no curtailment is necessary but Mr. Harding asserted that should the drought continue something would have to be done.

Columbus, with many large textile plants, would be seriously affected should a curtailment be necessary and Mr. Harding expressed the hope that such would not be necessary but admitted that should there be no rain within a short time the curtailment was a possibility.

Catarrh

CLINICAL tests have proved that Zonite, the World War antiseptic, is highly effective in cases of nasal catarrh. The antiseptic is used in dilution as a nasal spray for this trouble. Its effect is to cleanse the mucous membrane and reduce abnormal discharges, thus clearing the nasal passages.

Note: A more copious flow of mucus may be expected after spraying; it will soon disappear. Atomizer fittings must be of hard rubber.

time counts when you need a physic

SOME people seem to believe that the mere taking of a physic eliminates the danger in constipation. They apparently overlook the fact that there is no relief till the physic acts.

When you take a slow-acting, over-night cathartic, the danger not only remains, but is aggravated. Germs multiply by minutes in a clogged intestinal tract. 80% of all sickness results from constipation.

Every day more people are realizing this truth and are taking Pluto Water because Pluto acts in 30 minutes to two hours. It flushes the system—gently, yet quickly and completely. No gripping—no after unpleasantness. Bottled at French Lick Springs, Indiana.

TO UNDERSTAND.—Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works.—Psalm 119:27.

THE TAX COMMISSION.

The tax commission appointed by Governor Walker, composed of members of both houses of the assembly and of representative men from various groups of activities in the state, and charged with studying economic conditions and the will of the people as to tax revision, has completed its investigation, and its report will be in the hands of the governor within the next few days.

The commission has labored faithfully and well, and with an unselfish and sincere purpose to arrive at constructive conclusions that shall redound to the material advancement of this state and its whole people.

The people have been impressed with the earnestness and the thoroughness of the work—as full and comprehensive as possible under the circumstances, and considering that it had no funds available for conducting the investigations.

The great problem of taxation is complex and has many angles, but it is reasonable to expect that so representative a body of men will evolve, in a spirit of compromise on the vital points of differences among them, a plan, or program of legislative suggestions that will be worthy of earnest and sincere consideration by the members of the assembly and by all the citizens of Georgia.

There are good arguments in favor of practically all of the fundamental tax systems that have been suggested; and there are also good arguments against them. The course of wisdom always is to take the best and discard the bad, and to so consolidate and unify the good features into a finished system that may be, as nearly as practicable, fair and just to all, without favoritism or penalizations to any.

The most important matter of all is the stabilization of the organic state system. Investments hinge more upon the firmness of a system of taxation than upon the specific features of that system.

Tax agitation in Georgia has long kept the pendulum of business and industry swinging, and in a condition of such uncertainty that embarrassment has necessarily followed. It is to be hoped that the forthcoming special session of the assembly may begin the process of tax stabilization in Georgia so that the very irritating question may be dismissed from the public mind.

In the meantime it is the duty of the people of the state to cooperate fully and earnestly with the commission, the governor and the assembly in bringing about a settlement of this problem in a satisfactory manner as is possible.

THE BIGGEST ISSUE.

There will be held in Savannah today a state-wide conference on the promotion of public health in Georgia. It will be conducted under the auspices of the Savannah board of health, the Medical Association of Georgia and the state board of health. It will be largely attended by business and professional men from every section of the state, the keynote being one of peculiar appeal at all times, but particularly so now during a period of economic reconstruction which conditions have forced upon the state.

That keynote is the economic necessity for a strengthened program in the conservation of human energy.

The fight on preventable diseases in Georgia is one of the most important business propositions confronting the state. The negro exodus has brought about an acute shortage in farm and domestic labor. The boll weevil has forced new problems in the great agricultural sections of the state. The satisfactory meeting of these problems depends more than ever before, except in the call for the able-bodied to mobilize for war, upon the health and strength and virility of the man power of the state. It is paramount to all other problems, for upon it hinges the success or failure of every undertaking of a material nature.

Malaria alone costs Georgia directly, measured in money, many hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, and yet malaria is preventable, and with little individual cost to the separate sections and communities. Not only does it cost that amount in the actual loss of days at work or service, but the victim who continues perhaps at his work, is unfitted because of the drain upon his store of energy.

The weakened body, from any cause, perhaps improper dieting, excesses in other ways, or from worry or sleeplessness, or impure water, or improper sanitation, literally breaks the lock of one's physical constitution, and invites, through lack of resistance, diseases of all varieties that are not only costly to combat, but destroy and kill.

It is a problem in which all of Georgia is interested as an economic issue, far more important, indeed, than that of taxes, or of new developments, or of utilization of resources, for the healthy body is the greatest of all the assets that contribute to the prosperity of a state and people.

SHOCKING EVIDENCE.

According to the testimony of a farmer chum, who represented a large contracting firm desiring the assignments for building some or all of the big hospitals on the program, former Director Charles R. Forbes, of the U. S. veterans' bureau, was much more interested in borrowing money for his personal use; in wild liquor parties; and in general carousing, than he was in providing for the disabled service men, and in carrying on the great work of re-fitting for useful civil service the casualties of the war.

Whether this testimony, before the senate investigating committee, is true or not—and it was given under oath and we must assume it to be true until disproved—it is a notorious fact that more rumors of scandal have involved the veterans' bureau since its establishment five years ago than any other branch of the government service since the beginning of the republic.

And certainly there is no branch of the government engaged in a more sacred service.

The hospitalization of the diseased and maimed survivors of the war, the service allotments, the insurance, the vocational and technical training, all of these features of service to men who sacrificed for their flag, are too close to the hearts of all the people to have the organization dedicated to their service reeking with wastes, extravagances, immoralities, orgies, corruption—all of which have been frequently charged, and much of which has never been disproved.

The bureau under Director Hines seems to have taken on a new and better life. The system has been greatly simplified; the extravagances have been eliminated to a large extent, and the reorganization appears to have had a strengthening effect upon the morale of the great body of ex-service men whose destinies are vested largely in the operations of the veterans' bureau.

It is said that the Atlanta bureau has been particularly fortunate in its management personnel, and of course the great majority of employees in Washington as well as in Atlanta have the deep, sincere interest of the veteran at heart.

There has been something really wrong, however, with the Washington bureau in the past, and the present senate committee is liable to develop some startling disclosures before the hearings close.

The fact is politics, outside and particularly inside, has been the one enemy that has come very near steering the veterans' bureau on the rocks several times. Georgia people have suffered because of the internal jealousies and the insidious influences used in bureau management in the expediency of a political system within that ate at the very vitals of efficiency.

It is to be hoped this department may never again be permitted to become the storm center of Washington scandal that has reached out into every state almost of the American union.

That first meeting of the governors revived the ancient greeting of the governors of North and South Carolina. Let's see—what was it? Ask the governor of Louisiana.

Germany doesn't have to leave home to hunt trouble.

"Died."
It's in the death columns.
Then—under the word—
But there's hope
That still keeps us dreaming of God.
And "he knows the rough ways
The dreamers have trod!"

III.
The grief of the Mother
Who love in her eyes
For the first-born that came
Like the light of great skies;
And she dreams in the dear face,
And—dreaming, she dies.

IV.
Oh, say to the world—
When the dark spears fall,
And you look for the honey
And gather the gall,
With no hand to help you,
"O Love—love is!"

V.
The Sunlight.
The sunlight, the sunlight
After the weary night—
Dreams that you had of riches
And castles in the light.
The world in the sunlight
After the weary night.

VI.
The Sunlight, the sunlight.
And where the world grows bright,
No memory of its shadows—
The red bloom or the blight.
Just the world in the sunlight
After the weary night.

Flowers Where Loved Ones Rest.

I.
These flowers which here, Love's last best friend,
A constant vigil keep,
On sodded sacred mounds, where rest
My loved ones sleep,
Whisper feelings 'neath the flow'ers eloquent they speak!

II.
All of them, in their own sweet ways,
Say tender things to me,
Which take my heart to olden days,
On wings of Memory.
And make me see each loved one's

Of faces fair, and hearts of gold,
Soul-true, and unforget,

POSTURE AND THE VEINS.
It is a common and I think an erroneous belief that the veins of the body are like a network of pipes, and that they are subject to various degrees of dilation or constriction, as are the arteries.

The veins, however, are not subject to such changes, and their function is to carry blood from the heart to the various parts of the body. They are subject to various degrees of dilation or constriction, as are the arteries.

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY O. O. MINTYRE

New York, October 25.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Heaven does help the workman—a truck with a radio. The army of maniacs, masseurs and coiffeurs going to Millionaires' Row. To doll up social white hopes for rough boots with tea.

George Arliss with his monocle. A drafty day, too. Alligator perses $1 a throat. You can buy a whole alligator for that. A shout-out to all lectures on hygiene. Wonder if they can explain why subway guards are the richest men in New York. The Hattos—Fredrick and Fanny. Another Child's on Fifth avenue. The gleam of a secretary's eye through the huge cathedral doors. Fur shops bubble with trade. Mann from heaven—here comes Chic Sale and he always buys a soda water.

Why does a soda jerk walk away the second you start to give your order? Proud, regal women worrying how to them have their hands on account of growing baldness. Many of them carry canes.

It was a tough break for a certain theatrical producer recently, magazine was to print a personality story about him. His name was such that it was a matter of time before that people would not be inclined to take the article seriously. Indeed they would chuckle so the producer had his name changed. But the magazine had grown cold over the article and, now he has changed his name, they are not going to print it.

Gnawing Off Its Own Foot to Escape the Trapper?

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Life is the natural, proper thought for connection with the world; death is a mystery and a sad admitted afterthought.

But "the wages of sin is death," as man slowly came to learn, for he rested long under Satan's delusion that one may profit by sin and not pay the price.

It gave heart to a dark time this must have been.

The seemingly all-devouring grave could be escaped, the officials in the city of the living, we little realize, unless we deeply reflect, how much we are buoyed up by the fact that "Jesus Christ has abolished death and brought life and immortality to light."

"Life was, before death and shall be afterwards."

Q.—What is the largest Sunday school class in the world?
A.—It is said to be one held at Royal Palm, Miami, Fla., with William Jennings Bryan as leader. From 5,000 to 6,000 persons attend.

Q.—Is it true that the expression, "don't think," should not be used because it is considered by the purists to be a contradiction in itself, because it has become such a well established habit that its use is too general to permit its loss?
A.—This depends upon circumstances. If the party is very formal, it is not to be used. In case of doubt, wear a hat.

Q.—Should a lady wear a hat in dining at a large hotel at a formal dinner?
A.—This depends upon circumstances. If the party is very formal, it is not to be used. In case of doubt, wear a hat.

Q.—What is the southernmost town in the world?
A.—Punta Arenas, the capital of the territory of Magellan. It is a port of call and coaling station for all steamers passing through the Straits of Magellan. It is further south of Punta Arenas, but it is only a meteorological station established in 1880 on Beagle channel, Tierra del Fuego.

Q.—Has the Hudson Bay company any activities in South America?
A.—Lands found by the secretary of the company, who is chiefly relied on for the production of agricultural crops, and whose private ownership is not held detrimental to the best use of the land.

Q.—How many persons are engaged in clerical occupations in the United States?
A.—According to 1920 census, 31,292,741.

Q.—How many were selected under the selective draft because of heart ailments?
A.—Approximately 100,000.

Q.—What is the cost of the much county wide tax for school purposes imposed by Mr. New, Furthermore, a single school district in the county could levy a supplement to the state fund for the benefit of its schools. Nor could a single town in this county levy a cent to pay its police, work its streets and defray other municipal expenses.

Q.—If a limitation of fifteen mills county levy becomes a law without modification the rural schools will feel the first heat and the worst heat. The efforts of all these years to build up a local support for the public schools will come to naught, for the average county politician is not usually a very learned man and is not ready to understand the paramount importance of education with that of working the roads.

Q.—Put the property on the tax digest, and the rate will take care of itself. The county levying authorities are not plunderers seeking opportunity to devour the tax payers of the county.

Q.—J. W. LANDRUM, County School Superintendent, Franklin County, Ga., October 24, 1923.

WOODMEN OF WORLD WILL MEET TONIGHT

A joint meeting of Maple Grove No. 86, Atlanta camp No. 430 and J. C. Root camp No. 80, Woodmen of the World, and all Woodmen circle members of local camps are scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight in the Wigwam, 86 Central avenue, it was announced Thursday. Does Not Think So Much Of County Tax Limitation

Editor Constitution: I read in a recent Constitution the able letter of Representative New of Laurens county and your comment thereon.

I do not think we should too readily subscribe to the proposition of limiting the county levies to a total of fifteen mills. We had first better get some way of putting the intangible property on the tax digest and the tangible property on there at some decent per cent of its valuation.

My county has been levying fifteen mills for county purposes only for about ten years. It does not receive one dollar of it has been intentionally wasted. Just one freight last spring cost us $10,000 in wrecked bridges alone.

Now if the county must have the fifteen

Red Herring Is Matched To Meet Frankie Jones

Red Herring, through his impressive showing and victory over Kayo Jenks, on last Tuesday night has been signed up to mingle in another fracas here on next Wednesday at the auditorium.

Eight fans will easily recall that some months ago Frankie Jones, the California boxer, made two trips to this city to meet in combat Red McLachlin who cut a wide swath around these diggings. Both encounters were called off on account of bad weather. That's the boy Herring is called upon to meet Wednesday.

This stellar bout will be staged under the auspices of the 108th Cavalry, and, not content with this feature contest, the matchmaker of the soldiers' club has decided to feature an all-star card, which is rapidly being rounded up for the occasion.

Of Herring and Jones there is no need to go into discussing their ability. Herring has fully convinced the fight-going public that he is now boxing in the best form of his entire career. Jones is, as every well informed boxing fan knows, one of the greatest ring generals that ever slipped on the padded mitts.

The California leather finger has often gone out of his division to mingle with any one of the promoters desired to sign him up with and he is one of the very few mitt tossers who holds decisions over two boys of one

CARROLLTON TEAMS HERE

Marist will entertain the sister institution to the opponents of the G. M. A. cadets, Carrollton High school, this afternoon.

Carrollton A. & M. and Carrollton High are about equal in ability, as a rule, and the High school men should be able to make it interesting for the Ivy Street team.

Marist suffered a rather severe defeat at the hands of Boys' High last week, but she has been practicing hard and should be in condition to take the measure of the visitors. Johnny Bradley will be eligible to play in this battle, and should the worst come to the worst, he may be rushed in at quarter.

Marist has the odds with her, and should handle Carrollton about like she did Locus Grove a couple of weeks ago.

All the local preps have been picked to win this week, even the two who have left home, but the opposition is a bit below the standard held by the locals, and it is fairly safe to pick the Atlanta eleven to all come out on top.

The G. M. A. Game.

G. M. A. will meet the Carrollton A. & M. today out at College Park, and another good game is expected. The cadets have won two games to date—the opening tilt with Jackson High and the game last week with Decatur by a 1 point margin two weeks ago, and although that was a hard game to lose, she has fully recovered from the setback and is playing a good brand of ball at present.

True, she was a bit fortunate to come out on top of the Rome game, but she has been practicing hard all week's practice and is ready to give anybody a fight. Like most of the other visitors, little or nothing is known of the strength of the Carrollton team, but it should prove a hard fight, and a large crowd is expected to turn out for the battle.

The hands should be extended well up and out toward the ball, one a little farther than the other. The hand the farthest out guides the ball to the body and is usually on top of the ball when it comes to rest against the chest or stomach. The other hand is used to guide the ball into the pocket formed by the body and the two hands, and is on the underside of the ball. Of course a very low ball or a ball over the head has to be caught like a baseball.

U. S. OLYMPIC PLANS GIVEN

New York, October 25.—Mrs. Mollie Bjurstedt Mallory, former woman tennis champion, and present joint holder of the National mixed doubles title, will not be permitted to represent the United States in the Olympic tennis games at Paris next year, the American Olympic committee announced today.

Mrs. Mallory, a native of Norway, was said to have represented that country in the Olympic at Stockholm in 1912 and thus is subject to the ruling that the present United States team must be composed of American citizens, who had competed for their native lands in earlier Olympic meets, from representing the United States in the Antwerp Olympics.

The executive committee voted to hold the final track and field contest to determine the makeup of the American Olympic team at the Harvard stadium next June 14.

As in the past the winners in college and club track meets in the spring will be competitors in the stadium.

Football coach, University of Pittsburgh for past 8 years. Teams undefeated 5 of 8 years. Former Athletic Director Carlisle Indians. Successful coach for 28 years.

The hands should be extended well up and out toward the ball, one a little farther than the other. The hand the farthest out guides the ball to the body and is usually on top of the ball when it comes to rest against the chest or stomach. The other hand is used to guide the ball into the pocket formed by the body and the two hands, and is on the underside of the ball. Of course a very low ball or a ball over the head has to be caught like a baseball.

YALE ELEVEN IN BAD SHAPE

New York, October 25.—At the half-way mark of the football season, the standing of colleges in the eastern zone of competition is very badly jumbled and two of the so-called big three teams are still building or rebuilding, though the season were still young.

Yale has lost O'Hearn, her great left back and dynamo of offensive power, whose leg was broken in the price of last Saturday's victory over Bucknell. Clem Stevens and Neale will share the work in the game with Brown, but Neale is not in the best of shape, having been pretty thoroughly done up by the rough handling he received from the Bucknell end.

Princeton, whose line sagged ominously in the Johns Hopkins game and completely gave way in the Notre Dame disaster of last Saturday, is to meet the Navy at Baltimore. The Navy was beaten by Hugo Bezdek's aggregation of scrubs and regulars at State College, Pa., recently and also is far below par this year. Line Coach Bigler, at Princeton, compelled to do the best he can with the men he has is trying to teach his Tiger line to football from the beginning in the few days intervening.

Penn State comes to New York to play West Virginia on Saturday and Columbia, which has failed to hit a driving pace even under the coaching of Percy Haughton, meets the team from Williams college, which lately made a great defensive fight against powerful Cornell.

Apparently it is going well at Harvard where there are strong hopes now of a big three championship for 1923.

CLEMSON IS WINNER, 7-6

Fair Grounds, S. C., October 25.—The Tiger of Clemson triumphed over the South Carolina Game Cock in a bitterly-fought repetition of the annual state fair football classic here today. The score was 7 to 6. Frequent fumbles were recorded against both teams. Ten thousand people were in the stands.

After an exchange of punts, Harmon intercepted a Carolina forward pass near midfield. Robinson ripped off fifteen yards around right end. A forward pass gave the Tigers eight more yards and a line plunge made first down. Holoban plowed through the Carolina line to the ten-yard line. Clemson attempted a drop kick but it was blocked. Clemson recovering the ball. The quarter ended with Clemson having the ball on the fifteen-yard line.

Carolina held the Tigers for downs in the second quarter. Clemson recovered the ball after a fumble and was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Clemson punted and the ball went into mid-field, with neither side able to gain. Carolina was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Clemson's superior offense enabled the Tigers to carry the ball to the 20-yard line. An attempted drop-kick missed the bar by inches. The period ended with the ball on Carolina's five-yard line.

Third period. Clemson scored early in the period, following a succession of punts. Garrison received a forward pass and raced 15 yards across the goal line. Robinson kicked goal. Carolina scored a few minutes later, when Long blocked a Clemson punt and Meyer, Carolina end, scooped up the ball and went over the line for a touchdown. Sizemore, substituting for Wright, failed to kick goal.

Fourth period. Clemson mixed up an assortment of forward passes, line plays and an attempted drop-kick in the last period and kept the ball to the one-yard line in the last few minutes of play, where a Tiger player fumbled, and the ball went to Carolina, which promptly punted to the 35-yard line. Carolina held Clemson for downs and the game ended with the ball in mid-field.

GEORGE K. HORN SLATED TO HEAD TYPOTHETAE

Washington, October 25.—George K. Horn, Baltimore, was proposed today by the nominating committee for election as president of the United Typothetae of America at its annual convention here. William V. Parrish, of Detroit, Mich., was suggested as first vice president, and Henry M. Lott, Chicago, Fletcher Ford, Los Angeles, and O. H. Politz, New York, were proposed. Fred W. Gage, of Battle Creek, Mich., was nominated for treasurer.

SECRET WORK AT GEORGIA

Athens, Ga., October 25.—What kind of an offensive will Georgia use against Auburn, the old-time rival, when the two teams meet in Columbus November 3?

This is a question local fans are asking and they will know but little more when the kick-off comes than they do now, it seems.

Tuesday afternoon, after a day of complete rest by the team, when the "grandstand coaches" went down for their usual afternoon's workout, up in the stands they found the gates bolted, locked and guarded and the "Secret Practice" sign hanging out.

The movement on Sanford field are being kept a deep, dark secret. It may be that no changes whatever are being made, just perfecting the plays the team has, then again it may be that new ones altogether are in an embryonic state and will be perfected before November 3. Just one thing is certain—no one on the outside will know what to expect.

Georgia's interest this week is not all centered on the Auburn game, however. The freshmen play the Tarheels today, the Red Caps' measure by a lone touchdown, and the Georgia gang is out for revenge this time.

The Georgia varsity has no game Saturday.

ANOTHER LUIS ENTERS GAME

New York, October 25.—Inspired, not to say uplifted by his contemplation of Luis Angelo Firpo's business success in the American ring, Luis Vincentini, a Chilean lightweight, claiming the championship of South America and adjacent islands, will begin his career in the same business at the Garden Friday night.

Luis meets Barney Kelly, scion of the Old Barn Kelleys of the West Side, who started at fullback on the varsity of Union Barber college and was picked for the All-Tenth avenue team of 1921. Young Mr. Kelly has red hair and his neighbors have a feeling of sorrow for Luis Vincentini.

Vincentini is not so famous or so presses with demands for his work in the ring but that he still has time to be interviewed. Thus, a chat with him revealed that he has an ambition to be knocked out for $200,000 as Luis Angelo Firpo was.

"I would very much admire to be knocked out for $200,000," he said. "But I am only a beginner and I realize that I cannot demand such fees just yet."

In fact, the modest Vincentini may be knocked out for $2, as the preliminaries here are paid by the minute and if Vincentini should be stopped in the first minute of round one, his fee would barely equal his taxi fare to the hospital.

Vincentini, whose line sagged ominously in the Johns Hopkins game and completely gave way in the Notre Dame disaster of last Saturday, is to meet the Navy at Baltimore. The Navy was beaten by Hugo Bezdek's aggregation of scrubs and regulars at State College, Pa., recently and also is far below par this year. ## Tech Line-Up Is Revealed For Torrid Fray on Field Of Rockne's Gladiators

Werner To Start Game in Merkle's Place at Left Tackle; Not Afraid Nor Too Confident, Jackets Are Ready.

BY PAUL WARWICK, Special Staff Correspondent of The Constitution.

Lexington, Ky., October 25.—(Special.)—Even as these lines are being penned on a swaying, northbound train, thirty husky athletic delegates from Georgia Tech are indulging in choppy after-dinner conversation before being chased away to peripatetic covelets by watchful Father Aleck.

As some discerning one may have fathomed by now, Tech is on her way to administer something to Notre Dame, it may be a whipping, you victims of football dope, it may be a tie, it may be a tussle.

At any rate, this after-dinner communion smacks neither of the roaring lion, bent on easy demolition of some unwary prey, nor the piteous bleat of a fuzzy lamb, being led to certain slaughter. It is a determined sort of converse, however, and a line of talk that paves no way for alibi and mournful afterthoughts.

Line-up Announced.

Coch Alexander, who manfully nits the Tornado to its destined, sits serenely back in his drawing room and announces Tech's line-up with never a trace of emotion, never even a vestige of that pent-up eagerness which marks the youthful zest of the start he carries along. According to latest information from the worthy mentor, the following will begin the memorable struggle which transpires Saturday in South Bend: Staton, left end; Werner, left tackle; McIntyre, left guard; Frye, center; McConnell, right guard; Huffines, right tackle; Gardner, right end; Hunt, quarterback; Albright, halfback; Bob Reeves, halfback and Wycoff, fullback.

There's nothing wrong with that array. In fact Werner's substitution for Merkle, who possesses a beautiful broken rib, is the only thing approximating a surprise we are able to find. It had been generally conceded that Jerry Albright would start the game at half. Bob Reeves, his running mate, is in good condition, and Ivan Wilkins and Harris, to say nothing of Henry Reeves, one of the dead-sure too, are in a fix which will permit them to start valiant service at any old moment at all.

No Quaking Hearts.

Godwin and Carter, others of the backfield galaxy of substitutes, sat on the back platform of the observation car for an hour this morning, studying and dissecting signals and plays, so that their mental prowess as well as their physical fitness will shine them for meritorious duty if they are called upon.

No quaking hearts beat on this rattling old train in anticipating of the coming bout with the conquerors of the Army and the twisters of the Tiger's tail. Notre Dame's running attack was stopped in 1922, they say, and thusly can be stopped again. Forward passes are mighty good, insists the Tornado, but their success is always problematical and detrimental and another policeman.

going to make them more so this coming Saturday. Tech believes it has an adamant method of protection against the short and snappy passes over the center of the line, which have characterized Notre Dame's play thus far and a skillful blend of experience and thought has also evolved a defense against the double and triple backfield shift, a maneuver which staggered and dumfounded Princeton, but which meant little or nothing against Tech one year ago this month.

Princeton, we are told, either stood stock still when the perplexing shift arose or tried to shift thrice with it, and neither procedure was effective. Tech, it seems will do neither, but has struck on a happy medium which should enable this little eccentricity of Mr. Knute Rockne.

Good Nights Sleep Due.

Evidence gleaned from vagrant reports indicates that a large representation will be on hand to cheer Tech on to victory or whatever else may betide. The crowd, however, is not on this train, fortunately perhaps, a good night's sleep to help the condition of his willing boys.

Thirty men, fit and eager, insure the road ability of Tech's hopes and gives them ample opportunity for substitution when the going gets rough and rocky, and there seems not a man of all this score and ten who does not realize that the 1923 schedule offers Tech the chance of a lifetime.

The 1923 schedule is a preponderous affair and Tech is bound for its hardest contest with a spirit that looks mighty good and will never look bad even in defeat.

Vanderbilt Plans Study Of Notre Dame's System

Hardage Will See Tech Yellow Jackets in Their Battle Saturday at South Bend.

Nashville, Tenn., October 25.—(Special.)—A leaf from the book of the sensational Notre Dame machine is about to be torn out by the Commodores.

Lewis Hardage will invade the camp of Knute Rockne this weekend when the Micks battle Georgia Tech and discover what manner of magic the South Bend eleven is using. No phenomenal has been the success of Notre Dame in its feat of crushing the United States Army and the Nassau Tiger on successive Saturdays that South Bend has become a football shrine. Hence other folks are about to take the watch apart to determine what makes it tick.

It's probably very true that Knute Rockne has no excessive amount of offensive scheming that is unfamiliar to the Commodores. There was much marvelling in the east because Rockne had a guard getting out in the interference and that plan has long been in the trick of Dan McGugin. So has the delayed back which so confused the Tigers at Princeton.

Admits Rockne's Ability. Of course Knute Rockne is a coach of rare ability. There is no discounting that fact. His Irish eleven probably has no superior in the country at this time and an inventory of his trick trunk might prove very helpful to the Commodores. At least they believe it worth a serious inspection and for that reason it is planned to send Lewis Hardage to get first-hand information. As a matter of fact the Commodores need players more than plays. That is reserve players. Likely no outfit in the country is quite so poverty-stricken in reserves. In short, the Commodores have an eleven ill-really as well as figuratively and when a link is broken in the chain there is hell to pay. With Dock Kuhn on the ailing list the Commodores are sorely pressed to discover another cank for a new leaf. Red Rountree is filling the gap at Gil Reese's station but the fall of Doc Kuhn was wholly unlooked for. It's barely possible that the Vandy captain will desert his sick bed in time to direct hostilities against Tulane on Saturday. He has been in bed for the past two days and although he unquestionably will be weakened by wrestling with a severe cold there is more than an even chance that he will muster sufficient stamina to return to his quarterback shores.

BILLIARDISTS PLAY MONDAY

New York, October 25.—Young Jake Schaffer, who is finishing his training in Chicago, will arrive here Sunday to try to regain the world's 18.2 ball-line billiard championship, now held by Willie Hoppe, in the third international tournament, which opens Monday night at Hotel Pennsylvania. The referee will be chosen tomorrow.

According to the precedent the present champion, Hoppe, will appear in the opening match. His opponent will be announced tomorrow. Schaffer is rated the best shot-maker in billiards, and if one shot is all that is needed to win a game or the title, Schaffer will turn the trick, well-known billiardists say. Hoppe continues to play his same reliable game. It is said he has completely recovered from the laceration in his right arm which he developed a few years ago, and which for a time threatened to virtually ruin his billiard career. Welker Cochran and Horemans are the other contenders for the championship this year.

KING ELEVEN ADDS POWER

Bristol, Tenn., October 25.—(Special.)—The same grinning, curly-headed, good-natured Howard Finck, who last year was probably the most illustrious fullback ever seen in this section, returned this week to resume his school work at King college, and to take up his native stronghold on the Mountain Tornado.

With the return of the 1922 celebrity, King college now boasts of the most complete and perfect backfield that the school has ever had. Seven men—Captain Max Osburn, Jimmie Orr, Ralph Stowell, Elton Sharpe, "Crappy" Allen, "Beany" Maupin and Finck—comprise the staff of backs, and in case of injury to any of the players, a shift can be quickly and satisfactorily made.

Finck was captain of last year's Tornado at King, and was one of the most consistent players the team has ever had. He could always be counted upon to keep cool in the most trying games, and to make the right play in precisely the right way. He was a very congenial sportsman and took a loss or a penalty good-naturedly. Finck has the rare distinction of having taken active part in every game played by Kaysee last year and to his sturdy athletic build and clear thinking mind was largely influential in piling up a mountain of scores for his team.

Finck will be especially welcomed by Coach Adams at this particular time, due to the rather serious injury of Harrison Fletcher, the steadiness of Charles Williams, two mainstays of the local eleven. If necessary, Stovall, a backfield man can be transferred to the line in short order, thereby filling the position vacated by Fletcher, and another advantageous change can be made in the center of Williams, who regularly plays center.

In the approaching games with Maryville and Carson-Newman football enthusiasts of the Tennessee will see typical football struggles, it is thought, and Coach Adams will take no chances with his end of the matter, but now that he has a perfect lot of material, he will mould his aggregation into a harmonious machine which will in all probability reach and exceed the coveted "two hundred" mark in their scoring during the present season.

W. L. STUDIES V. P. I. PLAYS

Lexington, Va., October 25.—(Special.)—Driving his charges at a stiff pace until long after dark this afternoon, Coach De Hart allowed his squad barely time enough to relax at their evening repast, before they were ordered to report for an evening blackboard session at the gymnasium.

For more than an hour in the afternoon session, Coach De Hart's "wild cats" worked V. P. I. formations and plays against the varsity and it was with difficulty that the big eleven reached their dormitory at all. The varsity understudies have been working hard on Tech plays for the past two weeks and are capable of giving Captain Cameron and his outfit a mild taste of what they will experience next Saturday in Lynchburg.

The week's training will end Friday with a long signal drill. Present plans call for the team leaving here late Friday, and spending the night at a country inn, outside Lynchburg. The squad will reach the "hilly city" shortly before noon Saturday. If hard work and persistent effort show anything, Washington and Lee should send the best drilled eleven against Virginia Tech that has started against the Blackbushers in years.

The big eleven will probably have some new faces in the line-up when it takes the field against Tech, for De Hart is not satisfied with his forwards, and results in this department must show an improvement by Saturday if the Generals hope to take a fall out of Tech.

Rockne's System Turns Out Fine Teams, Declares Camp

BY WALTER CAMP.

New York, October 25.—A friend writes that he recently overheard a conversation in which a movie fan was extolling the virtues of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" to a football enthusiast.

"Oh," the other replied, "I think Walter Camp is always making too much of some of these minor western teams."

Another friend writes that in an early season conversation with the coach of a big eastern team, he had quoted the writer as believing that Notre Dame would "cut a wide swath this year" to which the coach replied: "Oh, there's nothing to it. Wait till they get up against one of the good teams."

Both these stories illustrate a fact known to readers of this column, namely that the writer for three or four years has been preaching the excellent precision of Notre Dame's play and the initiative developed by Coach Rockne in the individual members of his squad.

When Notre Dame defeated West Point 28 to 0 a couple of seasons ago, the writer described these methods in detail. Now, thanks to the eastern trip of Rockne's pupils this year, and the fact that they have trounced two of the "good teams," the writer is finding plenty of support for his contention that the Rockne system turns out real football teams.

It is a good lesson for the east to have learned. The big New York game Saturday will be Penn State vs. West Virginia. Both are powerful and confident. West Virginia will try to stop Beade's star, Wilson, who played such havoc with Navy and Penn State, on the other hand, will have her hands full checking the husky Mountaineer line. It should be a struggle worth watching.

Out on the California coast California seems to be coming along well in Witter has disclosed a worthy successor to Morrison as a runner and to Nisbit as a punter. Princeton has a big asset in the kicking of Von Gerbig as has the Army in Wood.

Former Southern Hurlers Featured in Big Leagues

Dizzy Vance, Johnny Morrison and Ernie Osborne Turned in Brilliant Performances.

New York, October 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Although subjected to heavy bombardment from batsmen during the 1923 season, pitchers in both major leagues recorded an unusual list of brilliant performances. "Sad Sam" Jones of the world's champion Yankees and Howard Ehmke of the Boston Red Sox accounted for the most spectacular box work of the season. Within a single week in September both blanked the Philadelphia Athletics without a hit or a run, 29 men facing Jones, while Ehmke, then in their next turns on the mound, both came close to duplicating their hitless performances, Jones holding the Red Sox to two hits, while Ehmke gave the Yankees one single.

Jones had the better of the better hitting record, silencing the bats of his opponents for 16 2/3 innings in a row. Walter Johnson added new laurels to his strike-out record by passing the 3,000 mark in his sixteenth year of big league service.

Dizzy Vance, speed-ball king of the Brooklyn Dodgers, hung up the season's strike-out record, when he whiffed fifteen of the New York Giants in ten innings, grabbed the season's consecutive winning record with ten straight victories and included a one-hit victory over Cincinnati in his work. In this game Vance came within an ace of joining the no-hit club for the only hit off him was made with a out in the ninth.

Morrison's Work. Johnny Morrison, of Pittsburgh, turned in a one-hit game against Philadelphia, while among the two-hit contests were those by Jones, Aldridge of the Chicago Cubs; Hugh McQuillan of the Philadelphia Athletics; Osborne, Keen, of the Cubs, combined to hold Cincinnati to one hit, the former permitting one bingle in seven innings when he was fired in favor of Keen who held the Reds hitless for the remaining two innings. Vance, Morrison and Osborne were formerly pitchers in the Southern League.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, Chicago veteran, added new luster to his record by pitching 53 consecutive innings without losing a game or a ball, while Stanley Coveleskie of Cleveland held his opposition scoreless for 27 straight innings.

Unusual performances were those of Jimmy King, of the Philadelphia Phillies, who was beaten by the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 1, although he fanned 12 men, and of Fred Washington, recruit, who walked 14 in a game with the Chicago White Sox. The latter figure is two below the record for most bases issued by one pitcher in a game.

Adolfo Luque, Cuban star of the Cincinnati Reds, turned in an "iron horse" performance, holding the Boston Braves in two games of a doubleheader.

Boys' High and University Hit Trail for Encounters

Boys' High and University School football teams go out of town this week to find competition on the gridiron, the Glimerites traveling down to Macon, where they will run up against the Lanier High team, and the Bluebirds riding down to Savannah to play Savannah High. Both games are scheduled for Saturday.

University's grid warriors have had two chances this season to demonstrate to the world that they still retain the championship punch which they so effectively wielded last season, but they have done well on both occasions. She lost one of them, the battle with the Jacket Freshmen, by a 3-0 score and won the other game quite handsily from the Monroe A. & M. eleven. Both struggles were hard games against some of the best opposition in the state, and University's showing was indeed a gratifying one.

Little is known of this year's Savannah team, but that institution makes a habit of putting grid eleven on the field and the local men will do well to take the measure of the south Georgians. Bluebirds are doped to win and expect top, but certainly not easily.

R. H. S. Leaves Today. Boys' High leaves today for Macon. The team will spend the night in the Central City and probably go through a light workout Friday afternoon on the playing field. Later they will do a week before the local eleven met the cadets and won, 13-0. The Glimerites won their tilt with Barnesville men, 6-0.

The local team makes a habit of defeating Lanier on the grid, however, and even in her worst years Boys' High was able to win her game with the Macon eleven. Dope would seem to be about even, but Boys' High should win the game. From the way she has been playing in the past two battles she has a vastly improved team from the one that went down before Decatur, and if she continues to play the football displayed in these games she should emerge on top.

CAPTAIN KUBALE CERTAIN OF VICTORY

Danville, Ky., October 25.—Twenty-eight "Praying Colonels," carrying the hopes and best wishes of Kentucky football fans, were speeding toward Philadelphia today on Centre college's fourth invasion of the east in search of inter-sectional gridiron honors.

While the Colonels were waiting at the station here to entrain, a civil war veteran, his hair snow-white and legs a bit unsteady under their weight of years, called Captain Edward Kubale to one side.

He led Kubale down the platform and pointed across the tracks to a legend traced in heroic letters across the side of a mill building.

"Read it, son," quavered the ancient. "Centre six, Harvard nothing; we gave 'em hell," the star proclaimed. Kubale pondered the challenge. "We'll beat 'em," was his reply.

TO INTRODUCE QUEER SHIFT

New York, October 25.—A shift play in which but one of the eleven players holds his original position, will be introduced to New York football followers at the Yankee stadium Saturday afternoon, when Dr. Clarence Spears sends his West Virginia Mountaineers against Hugo Bezdek's Nittany Lions.

The play is an elaboration of the old Dartmouth shift taught by Major Frank Cavanaugh when Spears was a Dartmouth undergraduate, and employed with some variations by Spears when he became football mentor of the green.

In the original Cavanaugh play, the guards and backs figured in the shift; in the Dartmouth development of the play under Spears, the guards, backs and ends were called upon to shift. In the latest development now employed by Spears at West Virginia, every player but the center jump in a new position just before the ball is passed, and from the shift and developed all types of offense, end runs, off-tackle sweeps, line bucks, forward passes and kicks.

Third Meeting. Penn State has twice encountered Spears' earlier development of the play. In 1919 Spears' Dartmouth eleven, employing it as the basis of attack, defeated one of the sturdiest Penn State teams, among whose members were two all-American stars, Bob Higgins and Charles Wray. In 1920 the shift resulted in an early Dartmouth lead over Penn State, and was well on its way to further scoring when, late in the game, Glenn Killinger nabbed a Dartmouth pass and sprang 70 yards to a touchdown that gave Bezdek's team a slight winning margin.

The strength of Spears' new play appears evidenced in the fact that the West Virginia eleven scored two touchdowns on Pittsburgh, which checked the powerful charges of Syracuse last Saturday, although beaten, 3 to 0.

Coach Spears lays claim to the title of "kid coach," which has been generally accorded Chick Meehan, the Syracuse mentor. Spears was but 91 when he was named coach of the Dartmouth, and assumed the role of head coach at Hanover. The West Virginia instructor has yet to reach his twentieth year.

RIVERSIDE TO BATTLE HERE

BY FRANK C. GILBREATH, JR. Gainesville, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—With a bunch of rooters, including faculty officers, as escort, the Riverside Military Academy football team will go to Atlanta Saturday for a game with Tech High school. It is scheduled for Grant field at 10 o'clock.

The cadets will put up a hard fight, unquestionably, but they are not as confident of victory as they have been in the past two seasons when they downed Tech High and now hold the state championship.

It is admitted that the Riverside team is not nearly so strong as it was last year. It has lost eight regulars as well as a number of good second-string men. Fear of the matter is Captain Cunningham and Coach Bunting have built up a team around three men—Vaden, Riddle and Huff—of last year's varsity.

Captain Vaden, though going well at his old position of fullback, is at present on the injured list and may be out of Saturday's game. Big things, however, are expected of "Mutt" Riddle, the fleet-footed end of last year. He will be remembered for his forward passing. He is now being relieved of some of the forward passing by George Bray, who is taking care of one of the halfback positions. Bray played last year with the Fulton High school in Atlanta.

Here is the probable line-up for Saturday: Riddle and Brishols, ends; Huff and Bethea, tackles; Moore and Forsyth, guards; Winford or Bales, center; Blackshear, quarter; Bray and Harris or Smith, halves; Vaden or Harris, fullback.

Whether Riverside wins or loses this year, Saturday's game will prove an interesting contest—in fact, one of the most hotly contested prep games of the season.

KANSAS CITY WINS SERIES

Baltimore, Md., October 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Kansas City Blues clubbed their way to victory over the Baltimore International League champions in the ninth and deciding game of the junior world series at Oriole Park this afternoon, for the championship of the minor leagues by the score of 5 to 2.

Two home runs, one by Skiff in the third inning with Brannon on second base and another by Brief in the ninth inning with Backer on first, won the game for the American Association champions.

Stephens Will Be Shifted To Pivot Place; Other Men In Condition for Battle

Sewanee Tigers Expected To Arrive Today For Clash With Oglethorpe at Grant Field Saturday.

BY BILL MORROW.

The pendulum of odds swung to the side of the Sewanee Tigers yesterday afternoon when Clay Parrish, veteran center on the Oglethorpe eleven, appeared on the Petrel campus supported by crutches.

Parrish, after suffering injuries to one of his legs early in the season, had recovered sufficiently to warrant his returning to practice, when another disaster caused this star to be lost to the Petrel cause for the remainder of the present grid season.

Chances of the Stormy Petrels winning a victory over the Tigers are somewhat decreased by the absence of this player, but the Oglethorpe grid stars are not spending time in mourning over their loss, but are planning to fill the position left by Parrish and give the Sewanee side the battle of their lives when these two rival forces clash at Grant field.

"Mutt" Stephens will, no doubt, be shifted to the pivot position. Stephens' regular position is in the back field, but due to the shortage of good centers, was shifted for the Centre battle and fitted into his new berth nicely. He has had extensive experience as one of the backfield flashes, but until a few weeks ago had never been tried on the line.

Though the Petrels are bruised a bit following their fierce scrimmages of the past few days, only Parrish and Corless will be unable to take part in the mix-up with the visiting Tigers. Corless was injured in one of the scrimmages and will hardly be able to see service. All the other Petrel athletes, however, are in good shape and in the right mental condition to fight their rivals through the entire 60 minutes of play.

Tigers Arrive Today. The Sewanee train will arrive some time this morning and the Tigers will have a short workout on Grant field this afternoon. Reports have been few from the Tiger camp and very little is known as to the condition of the visitors, but Sewanee's great exhibition game of the Alabama to one lone touchdown has made this aggregation a highly respected and dangerous foe to the band from Oglethorpe. The Petrels have profited by their battles with Tech, Georgia and Centre and should put a good defense in front of the charging Tiger backs. Both of these rival forces are of approximately the same weight and offensive strength and a great battle should be staged with the odds favoring the Tigers by a hair.

Dopesters are picking the flash, Maurer, to show his heels to the Tigers in more than one occasion. Both of these rival forces are of approximately the same weight and offensive strength and a great battle should be staged with the odds favoring the Tigers by a hair.

Progressives Propose To Get What They Want at Any Cost

First Caucus of G. O. P. Insurgents Makes Determination Clear—Will Hit Taxes and Railroads.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, October 25.—Progressives in the house have begun to whip their legislative program for the next congress into shape, and are laying plans for capturing from the "regulars" representation on strategic committees which handle legislation in which they are strongly interested.

The first step was taken Thursday in a meeting at the capitol with Representative John M. Nelson, of Minnesota, recognized progressive leader in the house. Several progressives who are in the city were present and took part in the preliminary discussions of legislative plans.

This conference was the first of several which will be held from time to time, culminating in a large general conference of both house and senate progressives late in November, just before the convening of congress, at which the final program will be adopted.

Nelson and other progressive leaders who have spent most of the recess here have been in constant communication with other progressives, through whom they have been feeling the pulse of their followers.

Want Peace if Possible.
"We are not going to use any wild-man act to get our program through or to get places on committees," Nelson declared Thursday. "We want to work with the others to get things peacefully, but if we are forced to it, we will use our organized strength."

There are about 70 members of the house who are counted as progressive, though they vote with the organization on occasion. However, there is a group of about 25 with a solid front, which is able, with the democrats, to block any legislation which they consider unfavorable, and hold the balance of power in the house. La Follette controls a similar group in the senate.

Nelson is hopeful of the outlook for progressive legislation in the next congress and expects to get a large part of the program through.

Prepare Bills.
Nelson has been studying the railroad question the entire summer, and is now drawing up a measure including the demands of the progressives, which will be presented to the whole progressive group later for approval. Representative Frear, of Wisconsin, is framing a tax revision measure, after several months spent in study. Other progressives have been giving their attention to other problems such as shipping, agricultural relief and other matters.

The progressive tax program will include:

Restoration of the excess profits taxes, "to shoulder the burden of taxation on the rich."

Removal of exemption on present tax-exempt securities.

Railroads Face Attack.
The railroad legislation being prepared provides:

Repeal of the guarantee clause of the transportation act of 1920.

Abolition of the railroad labor board.

Return to state commissions of the power to regulate intra-state rates.

A new valuation of railroads based on their "actual cost" and not on "cost of reproduction," which the progressives claim has been the basis of the present valuation.

Interstate commerce commission at a figure which they say is much too high.

Rich Employees Will Meet Today For Chest Drive

With a meeting of the employees of M. Rich & Bros. Co. at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the first of a series of meetings in preparation for the Atlanta community chest campaign to begin November 11.

Arrangements for a general meeting of the employees of the big store were perfected Thursday by Lucien York, general manager, who secured immediate cooperation in his plans from W. W. Orr, chairman of the committee on large concerns, and Marvin Underwood, chairman of the speakers' committee.

Other concerns of Atlanta will follow in rapid order, it was indicated Thursday, until both of these large concerns are functioning with every ounce of their power. Each is being organized for a tremendous effort, which is indicated by the fact that M. Rich & Bros. Co. has included 150 of the best known speakers in Atlanta. Their names were announced recently.

Meeting At Noon.
Preparations are now underway for a meeting of the executive committee of the chest campaign at noon in the chamber of commerce, when plans will be perfected for the further work.

Indications are that the auditorium of the chamber of commerce will be filled Friday night, when the entire membership of the speakers' committee will assemble to hear the report of its executive subcommittee and discuss the work on which the organization is entering.

Announcement Thursday that the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its Wednesday night meeting had indicated that the organization had contributed the first subscription to the fund for Atlanta's welfare agency in 1924 was received Thursday with profound satisfaction in campaign circles.

"We feel highly the sentiment that is behind this donation," said E. R. Black, general chairman of the campaign, "and we are confident that once more that organized labor knows and endorses the value of organized social welfare work."

Negroes Will Aid.
Arrangements were perfected Thursday afternoon for participation by the colored agencies of Atlanta whose budget was announced recently in one estimated total.

These agencies are as follows: Urban league, Leonard Street Orphan's home, Gate City Free Kindergarten, Carrie Steel Logan home, Neighborhood union and colored Y. M. C. A.

Announcement of the names of these institutions was made late Thursday following the conclusion of an organized meeting among the colored people of the city in conjunction with the Georgia committee on race relations.

The names of the leaders of the negro portion of the campaign organization were announced as follows: H. E. Perry, chairman; B. J. Davis, vice chairman; Rev. A. B. McCoy, A. P. Herndon, W. A. Bell, J. A. Robinson, J. H. Thomas, John Hope, President Morehouse college; Rev. H. Singleton, Rev. P. J. Bryant, Rev. D. H. Stanton, Col. A. P. Walden, Rev. J. C. Anderson, C. A. Shaw, Rev. Russell Brown, H. W. Russell, Dr. E. P. Johnson, Rev. A. D. Williams, Rev. H. H. Ward, Rev. W. J. Walker, Rev. C. H. Robinson, S. W. Walker, J. C. Lindsay, Prof. B. R. Holmes, E. L. Collier, Rev. J. A. Hopkins, David T. Howard, Dr. J. W. E. Rowen, Dr. H. R. Butler, H. L. Terrell, R. L. Craddock.

WELLS MEETS DAVEY SHADE

New York, October 25.—Because of the invalidity or the skittishness of all champions from Pancho Villa, the flyweight, to Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight, the fight clubs of New York are now compelled to use the runners-up in various divisions and make up the best bouts they can at moderate prices.

Billy Wells, the London welterweight, who has been in America more than a year but never yet has had work in the big ring at Madison Square Garden, gets his chance Friday night, profiting by the illness of the champions.

Wells, who has been dogged by Mickey Walker, the champion, and most other welterweights, will fight Davey Shade, of California, in a 15-rounder to a decision.

The English boxer was Jack Dempsey's sparring partner at Great Falls, Mont., and is rated as a very fast and clever boxer but no very severe punisher.

Villa, flyweight champion, dodges a bout with Frankie Genaro, American champion, who has whipped him three times. Villa prefers to box bantamweights to no decision, thereby running no risk of losing his title.

Joe Lynch last week dodged a fight with Joe Barman, and wants to box Johnny Dundee for the featherweight title, while Dundee ignores the featherweights and challenges Benny Leonard for the lightweight championship. Leonard, in turn, side-stepped Charlie White during the summer and tried to get a bout with Walker for the welterweight championship.

Walker is barred in New York and New Jersey. Harry Grech, the middle weight champion, is doing business in the no-decision territory, because New York referees compel him to fight according to the rules, which forbid butting, heeling and gouging.

Mike McGuire refuses to meet Tom Gibbons and risk his light heavyweight championship. And Dempsey wants $500,000 for fighting anyone.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD TODAY FOR A. M.D. WILSON

Funeral services for A. McD. Wilson, 71 years of age, pioneer Atlantian who died Wednesday night at his residence in the Wilson apartments, 707

Washington, October 25.—Two veterans of the world war sat together in a peaceful, cozy library, before a blazing log fire, and turned back the hands of time to the hour just five years ago when they stood at the threshold of victory after the most grueling war of history.

It was a dramatic reunion—this forty-five-minute visit which Lloyd George paid at the S street home of Woodrow Wilson Thursday, and so far as sentiment is concerned, it was the climax of the little Welshman's pilgrimage to the United States.

They sat facing each other, just as they had sat so many times at the Paris peace conference. Only now there was a pitiful contrast. One was ruddy with health, still eager to smell powder, and perhaps nourishing an ambition to sail back to his country a few days hence and stage a dramatic return from Elba. The other was pale, spent and broken, his life's work done, viewing the world's chaotic situation with the weary mountaineer of a philosopher.

Found Wilson's Mind Alert.
Lloyd George said afterward that he found Wilson's mind "alert, fresh and witty." They walked on the Versailles peace conference and exchanged views on the "general situation" at the present time. That is all that any of those present would admit.

But it is probable that what these two world figures left unsaid occupied them more than the pleasant generalities which they exchanged as Mrs. Wilson in another corner of the room chatted with Dame Lloyd George and her daughter, Miss Megan Lloyd George.

Highland avenue, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at St. Philip's cathedral, Dean Thomas H. Johnson officiating.

Members of the Old Guard, of which Mr. Wilson was a member, will attend services in his body and all 24 honorary pallbearers. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery. Surviving Mr. Wilson are his widow, a sister, Mrs. Ruth Reid, of Ireland, his son, A. McD. Wilson, Jr., and a nephew, William W. Reid, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the republican party, would be the republican pallbearer, while the funeral of Mr. Wilson, whose widow was formerly president of the club.

ONE SEAT IN SENATE, NINE IN HOUSE VACANT

Washington, October 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—One vacancy in the senate and nine in the house remain to be filled before the convening of congress. In most cases the contests will be decided on November 6, the general state election day.

The senate seat vacant is that formerly occupied by the late William P. Dillingham, republican, Vermont. Former representatives Porter H. Dale, republican, and Park H. Pollard, a first cousin of President Coolidge, but a democrat, are the contestants for this place.

In the house there are four vacancies in the New York delegation and one each in the Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina and Vermont delegations.

In the election districts were returned in all of these districts, the republican party held the ground in the coming contests, they would have a total of 208 members in the house and the republicans 224, with one farmer-labor, one independent and one socialist.

The republican party would be only sixteen as compared with 170 in the last congress, while its majority over all parties would be only 13.

Counting a republican victory in Vermont, the majority party will have solid delegations in the house from only ten states—Delaware, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Delegations in the democratic column include—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina and Virginia. In the last congress the republicans had solid delegations from 23 states and the democrats from only nine states.

Should the republican candidate be elected in Vermont, the republicans will have 61 members of the senate and the democrats 43, with two farmer-labor senators. The republicans' plurality would be eight as compared with 21 in the last congress.

Sixteen states will have solid republican delegations in the senate and twelve will hold solid democratic delegations. In nineteen states the delegations will be split.

Two parties, and one state, Minnesota, will have a farmer-labor delegation. "John, dear," said Mrs. Dumbell, "is a home town where they make these pairs out of galvanized iron?" "No," said John. "It is the place where they make papers out of fools."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

New York, October 25.—Additional photos which have never seen Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes in the apartment of Edgar T. Wacker, at 150 West 45th street, where she is believed to be, were shown in the suit of W. E. Stokes, 72-year-old millionaire, for divorce.

As they told their stories, the fragile case built up by Stokes' lawyers gradually sagged, until counsel defending Mrs. Stokes' defense prepared to rest their side at any moment.

Before they do this, however, it is likely that both Mrs. Stokes and Wacker will take the stand and swing a final wallop at Stokes' charges of indiscretions between them.

Under the auspices of Samuel Untermyer, the defense presented another red-haired double of Mrs. Stokes Thursday, in the form of a photograph, seen in the home of Thomas H. Brander near Bethel, Conn., as that of Mrs. Stokes. Brander, shown the photograph on the stand, pointed out that while there might be no little resemblance between Mrs. Stokes and the lady in the picture, the picture, long a decoration of the family fireplace, was that of the latter.

Alleged Bribe Offered.
Noteworthy from the defense standpoint was the testimony of Rufus E. Stillman, formerly a farm employee of the Brander estate, who declared that Stokes and his attorney, Dan N. Brander, had tried to secure from him a deposition that he had seen Mrs. Stokes there.

Further, Stillman declared, he was urged by Nugent to identify the Ross photograph and others, including one of a woman with Ted Rickard, the boxing promoter, as Mrs. Stokes.

Harry McMillan, who was valet to Wallace, at the 35th street address where Stokes alleges indiscretions occurred, testified that he had been offered $200 by Hattie Johnson, one of Stokes' employees, if he would sign an affidavit that he had seen Mrs. Stokes in the Wallace apartment.

At intervals a steamer leaves London, en route to a port on the east coast of Africa, with a cargo of old theatrical costumes. The costumes are imported by traders, who are found all over Africa, and are sold by them to tribes in the interior, the medium of exchange being cattle, curios and animal skins.

Lloyd George Visits Wilson Pair Have Friendly Chat

CONTRAST BETWEEN WAR CHIEFS IS GREAT

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

The other was pale, spent and broken, his life's work done, viewing the world's chaotic situation with the weary mountaineer of a philosopher.

Found Wilson's Mind Alert.
Lloyd George said afterward that he found Wilson's mind "alert, fresh and witty." They walked on the Versailles peace conference and exchanged views on the "general situation" at the present time. That is all that any of those present would admit.

But it is probable that what these two world figures left unsaid occupied them more than the pleasant generalities which they exchanged as Mrs. Wilson in another corner of the room chatted with Dame Lloyd George and her daughter, Miss Megan Lloyd George.

Highland avenue, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at St. Philip's cathedral, Dean Thomas H. Johnson officiating.

Members of the Old Guard, of which Mr. Wilson was a member, will attend services in his body and all 24 honorary pallbearers. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery. Surviving Mr. Wilson are his widow, a sister, Mrs. Ruth Reid, of Ireland, his son, A. McD. Wilson, Jr., and a nephew, William W. Reid, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the republican party, would be the republican pallbearer, while the funeral of Mr. Wilson, whose widow was formerly president of the club.

WILLIAM H. MOYER DIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, October 25.—William H. Moyer, superintendent of District of Columbia penal institutions and formerly warden at Sing Sing, died here today.

Mr. Moyer, who was 63 years old, made his home at Norton, Va., where he had organized a prison welfare league. He was brought here recently from Atlantic City where he had taken a heart attack was the cause of death.

Mr. Moyer came to Washington in 1921 and brought with him a long record of prison service. He was at Atlantic City from 1913 to 1915 he played a part in abolishing stripes, modified rules to permit conversation and fostered a policy of leniency to prisoners instead of numbers and permitted a wider latitude in letter writing. He was agent and warden of Sing Sing from 1916 to 1919.

Mr. Moyer is survived by his widow and one daughter.

Comes to Atlanta.
For many years an examiner in the United States department of Justice, Mr. Moyer was appointed during the Roosevelt administration by Attorney General Philander C. Knox to the position of warden of the local institution which he held for twelve years.

Upon leaving Atlanta in 1915 he accepted a position as warden of Sing Sing prison in New York state, where he served for two years, and was in charge of the institution until 1917, when he was transferred to the position of warden of the local institution which he held for twelve years.

YARAB TEMPLE HOLDS CEREMONIAL SESSION

ATLANTA TO AID IN OBSERVANCE OF "NAVY DAY"

Mayor Walter A. Sims, Thursday, issued an official proclamation in which he calls upon the populace of Atlanta to join with civic and patriotic organizations in the observance of Navy Day, Saturday, which is to be regarded as such throughout the nation. In addition to Saturday having been set aside in national appreciation of the navy, it is also the birthday anniversary of the late President Theodore Roosevelt.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "Whereas, Saturday, October 27, is Navy day throughout our great nation; "Whereas, the navy is our first line of defense, the strong arm of protection reaching out in war;

"Whereas, it is fitting that we maintain our navy in its full and complete state with the respect that is due us as a world power;

"Whereas, the navy performs peace-time service of which the people of the United States should be as justly proud as of its war-time accomplishments;

"Whereas, one of the purposes of Navy day is to impress anew upon the minds of Americans the importance of the navy's peace-time service;

"Therefore, I, Walter A. Sims, mayor of the city of Atlanta, do issue this, my proclamation, requesting the people of Atlanta to join with the naval and military establishments in proper observance of the day for displaying all homes, places of business, the stars and stripes, by other appropriate action, and remember that Navy day is the birthday anniversary of our great president, Theodore Roosevelt, whose interest in the navy was never failing.

Friday night at 8 o'clock the nobility of Yaarab temple and sojourning nobles and their ladies will gather for the first formal ball of the season under the auspices of Yaarab temple patrol. Tickets for this event are $2, and they may be procured from any member of the patrol, or at Shrine

Bones of Indians Like Cro-Magnons Dug Up in West

Santa Barbara, Cal., October 25.—Indians resembling the Cro-Magnons once inhabited the shores of the Pacific at an early age by many centuries than ever yet established by the records of the past.

Two skeletons unearthed by Mr. Harrington of the Smithsonian Institution, of Washington, D. C., are asserted to be remains of an age that dates beyond that of any other specimens unearthed during the excavations, which have covered a period of six months.

Lying on the surface of the hard ground, the bones of a man of a deposit of loam, which shows signs of having been dug into, the Indians during the period of the century-old graves.

The skeleton accompanying the skull was a fragment of a jawbone, the face being very long and the jaw massive. The profile is almost gorilla-like.

Denver Juvenile Judge Promises 1,000 More Babies, and 2,000 Fewer "Potential Murderers."

Denver, Colo., October 25.—Judge Ben B. Lindsey going to lay down the law to the physicians he claims are cutting Denver's birth-rate, in half by their illegal operations to prevent child-birth.

He is going to tell them to use more discrimination. The famous juvenile court jurist announced Thursday night that he would call a conference of these physicians, both men and women, whom he knew to have violated the laws against abortions.

"I will tell them that if they are not more discriminating I may be compelled to help prosecute them on murder charges," Lindsey declared. "I will ask their cooperation in obtaining more adequate mothers' compensation laws."

Most girls who confide in me are opposed to illegal operations, but are short of money and friends. If they can know that they will get adequate mothers' compensation for themselves and their babies, all will be well and we will have a thousand more babies born in Denver every year, and two thousand more potential murderers turned into good citizens."

Lindsey's latest announcement has been in Denver every year, and two thousand more potential murderers turned into good citizens."

David Singleton Cook, of West Point, acted as his brother's best man. The groomsmen were C. Littleton Jones, Milton Glover, Harold Atkinson and Tom Glover.

The ushers were Ashley Jewell, of Chickamauga; Robert Smith, of Cumilla; Bachman Sellers, of Washington, N. C.; Sidney Lewis and Jesse Shelton, of Atlanta, and W. L. Strickland, of Newman.

Mrs. T. J. Jones and Mrs. H. C. Glover were matrons of honor, and Miss Mary Glover was her sister's maid of honor.

The little flower girls were Misses Winnifred Glover, Anne Glover, Roman Cook and Betsey Cook. Master Nat Glover was the ring bearer. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. J. Jones, at Jefferson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for an extended bridal tour of Florida and Cuba. On their return they will make West Point their home.

Miss Gregory Is Bride Of James A. Vaughn

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gregory, of Miami, Florida, announce the marriage of their daughter, Annie Ruth, to James A. Vaughn.

The marriage took place Wednesday at 10 o'clock, at the home of her, C. M. Meeks in West End, in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

Mrs. Hampton P. House, as matron of honor, was given in blue georgette and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was lovely in a tulle of tulle velvet trimmed with squirrel collar and cuffs. Her corsage bouquet was of white roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn left for a wedding trip to Signal Mountain after which they will be at home in Inman Park.

Miss Eugenia Bragg Weds Mr. Pirkle at Home Ceremony

Characterized by simplicity and beauty, the marriage of Miss Eugenia Bragg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Bragg, and David A. Pirkle, Jr., which was solemnized with impressive dignity Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Virginia avenue, was of wide interest to a large circle of friends here and in Missouri where the bride has visited and has wide family connections.

A large gathering of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Dr. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the First Christian church.

The ceremony of home. The lovely home was decorated with palms, ferns and southern smilax alternating with baskets of white chrysanthemums arranged on the mantels and bookcases. The wide fireplace of the parlor was draped with black ground of the altar which was developed of stately palms and ferns before which handsome antique candelabra holding white burning tapers alternated with pedestals baskets filled with feathery white chrysanthemums. The gleaming lights from the candelabra cast a soft glow over the wedding party.

The bridal party descended the stairs, which was entwined with smilax and swainsonia and white satin ribbons. The new bride wore a gown of white with a silver sash of white cactus and daisies.

Preceding the ceremony Clifford Durham sang in exquisite voice "Because" and "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. John Lawrence Norton at the piano, who also played the wedding march. Lohengrin's wedding march announced the approach of the wedding party. "To a Wild Rose" was softly played during the ceremony.

First to enter were the two little ribbon bearers, Miss Dorothy Spure and Master B. C. Spure, Jr., who carried white satin ribbons and caught them in the white satin standards which formed the aisle for the wedding party. Little Miss Spure was given in a dainty frock of blue georgette trimmed with lace and French roses.

Master Spure wore a handsome suit of white satin. The groomsmen were W. C. Masters, Jr., and Phil Luning, both being a prominent physician practicing osteopathy. Her parents are Miss Mildred Vickery, the bridesmaid, was given in electric blue satin trimmed with gold lace. The skirt was draped and was caught at the waist with a handsome ornament. She carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ellen Starr, the maid of honor, was lovely in a gown of sunset pink Georgette draped with silver lace. Her bodice was jeweled and was outlined with raimentones. She carried a gorgeous bouquet of Columbia roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Lovejoy touched on many humorous and touching incidents in the life of the late President Rufus W. Smith.

A Christmas bazaar is being planned for the first week in December. Details for this bazaar will be announced at the home of Mrs. Thomas B. Akridge, 37 Columbia avenue, Tuesday, November 20, where the next meeting of the alumnae will be held.

Miss Marie Haines Will Be Honored At Luncheon Saturday

Miss Marie Haines, of St. Augustine, Florida, who will arrive Friday to be the guest for the week-end of Mrs. Walter Hill at her home on Piedmont avenue, will be the honor guest at a luncheon at which the Polychrome club will entertain Saturday at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Miss Haines formerly resided in Atlanta where she was well known as an artist and interior decorator. She conducted an interesting shop in the Cable building and gave instruction in decorative arts. She has resided in St. Augustine for the past two years where she has an artistic studio.

Following her visit with Mrs. Hill, Miss Haines will go to Athens where she will deliver a series of lectures on interior decoration. After this she will return to Atlanta and give a lecture course on the subject which will be sponsored by the Polychrome club.

Miss Helen McCarty Is Entertained

Mrs. Cator Woolford and Mrs. Norman Coolidge were hostesses at a beautiful luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Woolford on Lullwater road in compliment to Miss Helen McCarty, whose approaching marriage to Dr. Daniel Collier Elkin, will be a brilliant event.

The spacious reception rooms were effectively decorated with autumn flowers. The luncheon table was covered with a fluted cloth and centered with a plateau of dahlias, roses and anthers. Silver candelsticks holding unadorned white tapers and silver compartments of bonbons were placed at intervals. Indicating the guests' places were hand-painted Cupids tied with orange blossoms.

Miss Woolford's becoming gown was of black satin and King's blue chiffon. Mrs. Coolidge wore blue Canton crepe.

The guests were Misses Helen McCarty, Mary McCarty, Medames Joel Hurt, Jr., Glenville Guidingers, Jr., Tom Denham and her guest, Mrs. Max Don Howell, of New York; Edward Peoples, Henry Tompkins, Bernard Boykin and Eugene Haynes.

European Traveler Is Complimented

A pretty event of Thursday was the luncheon at which Mrs. Murrell Land entertained at the Capital City club in compliment to her sister, Miss Jeanie Klutz, who has recently returned to Atlanta after spending the summer months in Europe.

A basket of varicolored dahlias occupied the center of the luncheon table and surrounding this were silver candelabra holding pink unshaded tapers. The center was marked by place cards suggestive of a journey. Miniature suitcases filled with bonbons were the favors.

The honor guest was given in a Parisian model of black georgette and a hat to match.

Mrs. Land wore navy satin back crepe and a hat to match.

New Lecture Series At School of Health

The regular meeting of the Psychological Free School of Health will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in assembly room No. 2, Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

At the lecture period the school will present Mary Lawton Metcalfe, a very brilliant and dynamic speaker and experienced psychologist. New classes in character analysis are being formed and many cures of impaired vision have been made in the laboratory.

Robert Bryan Harrison, director of the school, will preside, and extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Announcement

Effective today, the street car stop at Peachtree and Poplar streets, for southbound cars, and the stop at Peachtree and Luckie streets, for northbound cars, will be discontinued in accordance with a resolution adopted by City Council on October 15.

It is hoped that this will contribute to the relief of congestion and speed up both street car and vehicular traffic.

Patrons of southbound cars who have been using the Peachtree and Poplar street stop will find two other stops nearby, one at the Piedmont Hotel and one at Walton street, a short block from the stop that is discontinued. Patrons of northbound cars will find car stops near the one that has been discontinued, at Houston street and at Auburn avenue, less than a block from the old Peachtree and Luckie street stop.

Mrs. Walter Grace Elected President of Georgia U. D. C.

BY MRS. McCORD ROBERTS, Augusta, Ga., October 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Walter Grace, of Macon, was elected president of the Georgia division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the closing business session today of the 29th annual convention, which has been in session in Augusta for three days. Mrs. Grace succeeds Mrs. Frank Harrold, of Americus, whose term of office expired by limitation at this session and who has been president for the past four years.

Mrs. Grace has been second vice president during Mrs. Harrold's two terms as president and was for six years president of the Sidney Lanier chapter in Macon. As a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Colonial Dames, Mrs. Grace occupies an enviable position in the estimation of leading members of Georgia patriotic societies.

Mrs. Coleman Honored.
Mrs. W. S. Coleman, of Atlanta, who has been first vice president of the division for four years, was made an honorary president of the division in recognition of her splendid services to Georgia and her fine spirit of sacrifice in refusing to allow her friends to present her name in opposition to the choice of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Ida Evans Eve, of Augusta, former president of the division for four years and a daughter of General Clement A. Evans, was nominated for the same honor by the Augusta chapter and was elected an honorary president of the division.

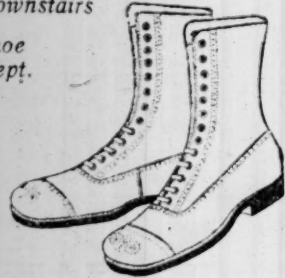

Other officers elected were:
Mrs. Zubulou Walker, of Canton, first vice president.

Mrs. P. H. Jeter, of Decatur, second vice president.
Mrs. Leroy Hankinson, of Augusta, third vice president.

The members of the Yaarab Shrine patrol will entertain at their first formal dance of the season this evening at the East Lake Country club.

Indorsement with marked enthusiasm and a demonstration that amounted to an ovation at the Thursday afternoon session and again at the close of the evening session.

The Georgia division, U. D. C. emphatically indorsed the Milner bill providing a pension fund for Confederate veterans and their widows, and the division requests all chapters to urge the representatives and senators to vote against repeal. The division went on record at tonight's session as steadfastly supporting every means of bettering the status of Confederate veterans.

Miss Mildred Rutherford's address on "Truths of History" made a great impression on an audience that packed St. John's church.

Miss Rutherford declared the Anglo-Saxon race must stick together and that the old ideals of the south should be carefully preserved in school history teaching. Closing references to the great Confederate memorial on Stone Mountain were enthusiastically applauded.

Camilla chapter was awarded the prize for being the newest chapter in the division. The Margaret Carter Hunt loving cup for greatest increase in numbers was awarded to the Atlanta chapter; the historical essay medal was awarded to James Sullivan, of Dawson; the Lamar trophy awarded to the Savannah chapter by Mrs. Walter Lamar, of Macon, for the best report of the year's work; the Selden banner for greatest number of historical essays was awarded to Oconee chapter, of Dublin.

Resolutions Passed.

Augusta, Ga., October 25.—A request that the United Daughters of the Confederacy create a permanent historical fund to further the propagation to further southern history and literature in the schools featured resolutions put before the annual convention of the Georgia division of the U. D. C. here today. This resolution was adopted.

A permanent memorial to Alexander Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy, was urged in another resolution, which also called for the stimulation of the project of the Alexander Stephens memorial school. This resolution, signed by Mrs. Lula Moore, of Crawfordsville, president of the Stephens chapter of the U. D. C., was adopted. Others signing it were Mrs. Ada Ramp Walden, Augusta; Mrs. Mary Lois Sibley Eve, Augusta; and Mrs. Howard McCall, Atlanta.

A third resolution urged that the memory of James R. Randall, poet laureate of the Confederacy, be suitably memorialized by the erection of a suitable monument. The convention failed to adopt this motion, declaring that this would be taking a privilege away from Augusta, the home of Randall, but voting to help the Augusta chapter in any manner possible in perpetuating the famous poet's name.

Items of Interest From Woodberry Hall.

Woodberry Hall is to be represented in the Kirmis to be given at the Woman's club in the near future. The following girls will take part: Misses Nancy Strubling, Genevieve Hopkinson, Julia Daniel, Virginia Morse, Harriet Pusey, Verne Harper, Catherine Clippinger, Dorothy Keeling, Margaret Hardy and Elizabeth McKinney. These girls will be the winners of the Beauty contest of that name which is declared to be one of the prettiest selections of the program.

The first dance of the season will be held at Woodberry hall soon, and great interest is being manifested among the student body as a large attendance is expected. The Blue Bird orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing. Misses Dorothy Keeling and Genevieve Hopkinson will give several exhibition dances.

The dramatic club is progressing nicely. Frequent rehearsals of the new play to be given before Christmas are being carried on with much success. The members of the Black Cat club were entertained last week by Miss Ethel Lassiter.

Y. W. C. A. Educational Classes Are Organizing.

In the classes that are being organized by the Young Women's Christian association to be operated under the Smith Hughes fund there are openings for members in each class.

What Is Good Taste?

A Series of Thrice-Weekly Articles by Julia Hoyt (Mrs. Lydig Hoyt) on the Subjects of Interior Decoration, Feminine Dress, Entertaining, Amateur Theatricals and Other Topics.

THE GUEST ROOM AND THE BEDROOM.

Although the furnishings of the entire house or apartment may be indicative of a woman's personality, no room presents quite so many excellent opportunities for such expression as her own bedroom. It may be planned along any one of a score of lines.

The guest room, however, is quite a different proposition. In furnishing this, we should conform to certain rather definite and well-known rules. Of course, the principal thing to be borne in mind when furnishing a guest room is the guest's comfort. If possible, it is well to arrange the bed so that it will not face the windows, and, of course, to provide dark shades for the windows, for many people are unable to sleep in a bright room. What leaves a more unflattering impression of a visit in a guest's mind than an uncomfortable night? Remember, too, the importance of a good light beside or over the dressing table. A bedside table is almost a necessity in a guest room, and it should be equipped with lamp, matches, ash tray, possibly some cigarettes, and a tray containing a pitcher of water and glass. The thermos water-jar solves the problem nicely, especially in summer, for the water is sure to remain cold. Just now one can get such pretty thermos pitchers, and when selected with an eye to the color scheme of the room they are not only useful but decorative.

Comfort Vital.
Comfort in rest is vital to health. It seems to me that the poorest economy in the world is a cheap mattress. A really good one, although rather costly, is far more economical in the long run. I think it a good plan when furnishing a bedroom to buy a good mattress and springs before there is a possibility of being first tempted by some alluring bit of furniture or lovely piece of chintz whose cost necessitates the purchase of a cheap mattress.

If there is space for it, it is pleasant, but not essential, to have a small desk in the guest room. This, of course, should be equipped with stationery, ink, stamps, pens, and blotter. The thought that a hostess gives to the comfort of her guests is as sure an indication of her character as the guest's consideration of her hostess.

Since so many of us are forced to live in tiny quarters these days, a word about the day bed cannot be amiss here. For the woman who cannot afford the extra room usually devoted to the overnight second, the day bed really solves the problem. A good design should be selected so that another day bed may be gotten later on if one so desires. Placed in the living room it cannot but add charm to the room and its service as a lounge during the day and a comfortable bed at night makes it a worthy adjunct to any abode. Then, too, for the professional woman who lives in the one room, who must use that room as living quarters during the day and a bedroom at night, the day bed again solves the problem. There is something so trim and charming about this type of bed that I wish more people would consider it as a substitute not only for sofas and couches, but for the usually rather ugly twin beds.

Ideal Bedroom.
Of course, a great many women use their bedrooms merely for sleeping and dressing rooms, while others prefer to make of it a sort of second living room. Naturally, the size of the room has much to do with this arrangement; so have its cheerfulness and the amount of light it can boast. I happen to be one of those who love to make use of my bedroom as a work-room, consequently, I am in it a great deal.

On a week-end party recently I saw an ideal bedroom. It was an L-shaped room with a large fire-place across the long end. My hostess had placed her bed in the short end of the room and opposite it her dressing table. By this arrangement she could see the fire-place from her bed, and the dressing table was kept quite apart from the rest of the apartment. Between the windows was placed her desk. Near the fire-place was a charming chaise longue and beside it a little table bearing an exquisite lamp. On the other side of the fire-place was the most inviting large chair imaginable. The most economical of fruits. Prudent housewives will secure cranberries now.

DELICIOUS CRANBERRY JELLY

You can make 10 tumblers of jelly with 2½ pounds of sugar and 8 pounds of Cranberries! Try this recipe:

Cook until soft the desired quantity of cranberries with 1½ pints of water for each two quarts of berries. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure the juice and heat it to the boiling point. Add one cup of sugar for every two cups of juice; stir until the sugar is dissolved; boil briskly for five minutes; skim, and pour into glass tumblers, porcelain or crockery molds.

The Life of a HOME

A healthy, happy, contented wife is the life and joy of the home and the greatest inspiration a man can have. It is not by accident that the healthiest and happiest of men are those who have a wife who is a helpmate and a comfort.

It may be backache, headaches, the tortures of a displacement or some other ailment peculiar to her sex, which makes her irritable, despondent, and her whole life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs to restore her to health and happiness, for statistics prove that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it.—(adv.)

STARVED HEARTS

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

CHAPTER XXII

Barbara Pleads.

Throughout the long, warm, California night, Barbara talked with Madelon, seeking to dissuade her from her avowed intention of marrying Chandler to avoid returning to Stephen Lane's dominion.

"If you don't love him, don't marry him, I implore you," pleaded Barbara. "Look at me! Take me for your horrible example. I married without love; but I did it that others, whom I adored might not suffer. You haven't that necessity to goad you into such an agreement."

"But I have my own freedom to see to, my own soul the right of an individual to lead her own life to make her own decisions, to think her own thoughts," insisted Madelon stubbornly. "In Uncle Stephen's home, I am a slave to his will, just as you are a slave. You have seen what he has done with my life. He took away the only man I can ever love and made me both miserable just to suit his own selfish whim."

"I tell you I won't go back!" she burst out violently. "This taste of freedom has been too sweet. Howard Chandler is providential. He will take me away to a place where it is always sunshine. I can be myself, live my own life. Perhaps in time, I can even gather up the scattered fragments of my happiness, and fit to Mr. Chandler? Have you thought of that?"

Madelon laughed easily. "Of course he'll object. Uncle Stephen is just one great big objection with a capital O. . . . But it will be too late."

"You mean?"

"Tomorrow, I will tell Howard that I have changed my mind. . . . and why. . . . Oh, I'll be frank with him. I won't marry him under false pretenses. He knows I don't love him, but he says it doesn't matter. He knows, too, that Uncle Stephen broods on my former love affair. We'll be married before my tyrannical relative and guardian arrives. What can he do then?"

Fear flashed in Barbara's dark eyes. "Aren't you afraid to antagonize him?"

"Why should I fear him when I am free?" asked Madelon complacently. "Oh, of course, he'll rave and likely disinherit me. But what does it matter? Howard is probably wealthy. Anyway, there's a home in Howard's."

She knelt suddenly beside Barbara and slipped her arms around her. "Wish me luck," she pleaded. "and just a tiny bit of happiness."

"Oh, I do! My dear, I do!" Barbara's lips brushed her forehead. "I hope you may never know unhappiness again."

Neither of them ever afterward referred to that midnight conference. It was a sealed chapter between them. When Madelon came down the following morning to keep a previously-made appointment with Howard Chandler, she looked as fresh and untroubled as though she had not spent the night in reaching a momentous decision. In her sheer white gown, with a drooping flower-wreath that she seemed a lovely, trustful child. The look in her violet eyes would have indicated that they saw only a radiant, rosy future. But her slim fingers were icy, and it seemed to her active imagination that even the warmth of the California sunshine could not melt the dark, cold fear that gripped her heart.

With a gasp, she remembered which held no recollection of her abrupt parting with him the night before, she sprang into his car, waiting at the foot of the steps.

They talked of casual, impersonal things as they sped along the road that skirted the sea. A few miles out where the elevation made the view superb, Chandler brought the car to a standstill and they both sat silent, gazing out across the sea that rippled below them in the sunshine.

Madelon's nose was as indolent as that of her companion, but her hands were clenched tightly in her lap and her eyes noted no vestige of blue sky or sunlight sea. They stared unseeingly ahead in a future that was dark and misshapen.

Then, very low, she spoke. (Copyright, 1923, by The Constitution)

National Camp Fire Officer Gives Training Course Here

Miss Florence Heintz, of New York, associate field secretary for the national board of Camp Fire Girls, who is visiting in Atlanta. She will be honor guest at the tea given Tuesday, October 30, at Stonehenge, the home of Mrs. Frank T. Mason in Druid Hills. The other guests will include the council members and guardians, Mrs. George Wight, chairman of the council, and Mrs. Tom Brooke, chief guardian.

The Camp Fire program has been adopted to such an extent in Atlanta that local council has been organized. The demand for formation of more groups of girls has led to the opening of training classes for leaders. Miss Florence Heintz, of National headquarters, New York city, has arrived in this city to conduct this course of five lessons. She comes with a wide experience in this work, having been Camp Fire executive for several years as well as having directed a girls' camp. The classes will be held both morning and afternoon and are open to teachers, mothers and all women interested in the social development of young girls. They will be at the Girls' Senior High school at 10:30 a. m., and at Commercial High school at 3:30 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week.

The topics that will be taken up in the course will be psychology of the adolescent girl, her characteristics and tendencies, the Camp Fire program, and how it can be adapted to all phases of life, the development of the team spirit in girls, and how it is the very basis of citizenship. All activities that the girls enjoy must be purposeful, each leading to an aim, and in this way bringing out and guiding the girls' enthusiasm and character. These traits can or cannot lead to the very best and finest in womanhood. There will be one lesson out of doors, teaching how to lead

Requested to Attend Funeral.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, and Mrs. Charles T. Phillips, president of the Atlanta chapter U. D. C., request members of their respective organizations to attend in a body the funeral of A. McD. Wilson at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in St. Philip's cathedral. In testament will be in Oakland cemetery.

George Ramey Will Entertain.

George Ramey will entertain at a dinner party Saturday evening in honor of his sister, Mrs. Norman Powell Fendley, and Mr. Fendley at his home on Myrtle street.

Musicians' Club Will Give Dance.

Of interest to the many friends and members of the Musicians' club is the announcement that the Carolina Syncopators, en route to Florida for the winter season, will furnish the dance program Saturday night at Roseland, 217 1/2 Peachtree street, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Poole-Anderson Cards Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Johnson Poole have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Hattie Fur low, to John Reuben Anderson, on Wednesday, October 24, Atlanta, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be at home after November 1 at Fort Saunders Manor, Knoxville, Tenn.

Silver Tea Is Postponed.

The silver tea, which was to have been given this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. O. Miller, 310 Sycamore street, Decatur, by the Woman's Society for Georgia Missions of the First Christian church, has been postponed until further notice. The society instead will attend the funeral of H. M. Patterson at the church the same date and hour.

For Nickel Fixtures. A splendid cleanser for nickel trimmings and fixtures can be made at home by taking equal quantities of liquid ammonia and alcohol and stirring in whiting to the consistency of paste. Apply with a cloth, leaving the tarnished parts covered until the cream dries. When dry, polish with a soft cloth.

Rats: If you suspect rats of visiting your cellar, strew it with chloride of lime. This will usually drive the rodents away.

Kirkwood Chapter To Give Halloween Party on Tuesday

Kirkwood chapter No. 226 Order of the Eastern Star, will be host at a Halloween party Tuesday evening, October 30, benefiting the Georgia Children's Home society.

The party will be held at the Kirkwood Masonic hall, in South Kirkwood. The public is cordially invited. East Lake, South Decatur and Kirkwood street cars pass by the Masonic hall at Kirkwood station.

An attractive program of free entertainment, together with the usual Halloween features has been prepared by the program committee of the chapter. Refreshments will be served by the several booths. The musical part of the program will be rendered by a group of Kirkwood artists.

Mrs. Oldknow Is Hostess to Guild.

Mrs. J. W. Oldknow was the hostess.

on Wednesday afternoon to the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Holy Comforter, at her home at 423 Pulliam street. A large number of ladies were present.

The principal feature of the afternoon was a surprise by the guild, when entirely unknown to Mrs. Oldknow, they presented to her through Mrs. P. C. Morgan, the president, a handsome wool and silk sweater, the occasion being her 65th birthday.

The next item on the program was to make further plans for the sale of tickets for the concert to be given at the Pryor Street school auditorium, by the choir, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It was found that nearly all of the ladies present had already disposed of 10 or more tickets.

Plans were completed for a rummage sale to be conducted in the near future.

Miss Bennett Will Honor Visitors.

Miss Anna Bennett will entertain at a bridge this afternoon at her home on North Moreland avenue in recognition to her guests, Mrs. W. N. Matthews, of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. L. and Boss, of Oklahoma City, Okla. Twelve guests will be invited to meet these attractive guests.

What Women Wear

BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE.

The coat worn with fur is a strong rival to the all-fur coat. The fur-trimmed coat has become well established as a rival to the all-fur coat. And there are women enough who, out of sheer consideration of their own comfort, will have none of the all-fur coat, preferring the cloth coat lavishly trimmed with fur.

Beige duvety coat embroidered in brown. Large fur cuffs form muff.

in down and trimmed with an enormous fur collar and cuffs, each as ample as a muff. These cuffs are, in fact, used as a muff, the right effect being produced when the hands are clasped in front. This coat is full length, and the full-length coat is worn long enough to cover the frock with which it is worn. The three-quarter-length coat, somewhat less formal, has become an established fact, however, and women this autumn and winter have three lengths to choose from—full-length, three-quarter and the short-hip length coat or jacket—often worn with frocks of velvet or other heavy material where the warmth of a long coat is needed.

There is as much in the way a woman wears a coat as in the way the coat itself is fashioned, a coat being probably more difficult to wear with a good air than either suit or frock. Smart coats are still spoken of as "wrappies," but it is not the wrappy effect of other years.

The effect now desired by French women, and to a certain extent by Americans is the tightly drawn line around the hips. There is fullness through the shoulders and body, while by arrangement of fastening or by the way the coat is held by the wearer there is a snug, almost drawn look at the hips. Interestingly enough the flare—however it may have won out as a factor in the frock and suit silhouette—has met with only little encouragement in the way of coats.

The word has gone about that velvet is smart in Paris for coats, but as yet it has met with little enthusiasm this side of the Atlantic. Chanel's bottle green velveteen coat is still looked upon as what women may wear, not what they do. Black velvet coats, often trimmed with ermine, have gained more ground with the French, and may become as well liked here as in France.

Broadcloth, so long on the shelf so far as dressmakers are concerned, seems to be gaining a melting of prominence, and both Worth and Premet of Paris have made coats of that material for autumn. But duvety and similar life fabrics are still smart, and the women who want to play safe and appear at her best, whatever the eccentricities of the most talked-about fashions, cannot do better than to stick to one of these materials.

HAND BAG STYLES differ as much as any other article for feminine use, but there is a good reason for the individuality. We have them in definitely exclusive designs that are sure to please the most fastidious. All the most popular materials from fancy leather to beaded effects. Various sizes.

RAILROADS
GOODS DEPARTED

Total bond sales, par value, $12,971,000.

New York, October 25.—Bond traders were kept today by the market for the 4 percent issues. More than a score of those bonds, several of them not listed on the New York stock exchange, accordingly advanced from small fractions to nearly 2 points.

The buying was reported to have come from Holland, where many of the railroad 4s are also listed.

The greatly increased demand for railroad securities, however, did not extend to the general run of railroad bonds, and there was widespread selling in the industrial and public utility grounds, the former including upward slightly while the latter moved to lower grounds.

Price movements in the industrial were influenced for the most part by stock prices.

Active United States government bonds continued to be bought in sizeable blocks. The exempt 3-2s moved above par for the first time in two months.

An offering is expected soon of $12,500,000 Pere Marquette first mortgage bonds.

Filipinos' Demand For Independence Gives Incoming Congress Serious Problem

At the left, Senator Pedro Guevara, Philippine resident commissioner in the U. S.; map showing relation of the Philippines to Japan and British possessions on the south; right, top to bottom: General Wood Sergio Osmeña and Manuel Quezon.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(By Central Press.) The insistent demand of the Filipinos for their independence raises a problem which Congress must face at the coming session. There appears to be a growing sentiment in the national legislature favorable to granting independence to the islands and to the Philippine residents under American rule is shown by the recent action of the Philippine legislature in passing the resolution presented by Sergio Osmeña asking for the recall of General Wood. This resolution has the support of Filipino leaders like Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine senate, and Pedro Guevara, Philippine resident commissioner in the United States.

It is the opinion of officials here that no American governor general would be satisfactory to the Filipinos in their present mood. They will be satisfied with nothing less than independence. This idea might have been in the mind of President Coolidge when he called General Wood after the Philippine legislature had asked for the latter's recall, informing the general that the administration stood squarely behind him in the present controversy.

NARCOTIC ADDICT BURGLED BY DETECTIVES

Detectives were still searching Thursday night for burglars, believed to be narcotic addicts, who broke into two drug stores early Thursday morning. No loot was obtained, according to police reports. A glass panel was shattered in the front door of the Atkins Park pharmacy, at 554 Highland avenue. It is believed that the men were frightened away by the approach of policemen, who discovered the open door about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Shooting afterwards two men were seen leaving the Innman Park pharmacy, at 598 Edgewood avenue, by A. M. Owens, of 55 Lake avenue, who reported the incident to the police. The entrance to the Innman Park pharmacy was effected in the same manner as was the drug store on Highland avenue. No arrests have been made.

Five New School Buildings Needed Declares Sutton

Reports from the attendance department disclosing 5,000 more children in schools Thursday than on the same date last year resulted in an assertion by Superintendent Willis A. Sutton that five new standard school buildings each year will be necessary to house the normal increase in school population of Atlanta from now on.

Figures released Thursday showed 45,500 children now in school against 43,000 on the same date last year. With normal conditions of increase prevailing through the year, the attendance by the end of the year will be 53,000 to 54,000, Mr. Sutton asserted.

Attendance January 1, 1921, was 32,682; January 1, 1922, was 40,300; and January 1, 1923, was 43,230, he said.

To house 5,000 pupils will require at least 100 standard classrooms, normally built to seat 40 to 45 children. Standard school buildings are intended to accommodate 1,000 to 1,200 pupils. Atlanta has now only one standard school building, the English Avenue school, which houses 1,200. All the new bond issue elementary schools are so built that they can be enlarged to standard buildings.

Mr. Sutton's announcement of attendance figures came close on the heels of his declaration Wednesday that $700,000 more income would be necessary to operate schools in 1924 than is available for 1923. The normal cost of educating a child is $50 per year for all purposes exclusive of buildings, he said. Attendance of 50,000, the level that can be expected for next year at the present rate of increase, will require $2,500,000. The present revenue of the school department is $2,000,000 per year.

A special school tax has been suggested by Mr. Sutton as the only solution for the problem of maintenance and a new bond issue of at least $5,000,000 next spring as the only solution for the housing problem.

Paris, October 25.—(Special.) "Weeping Orbs" is the latest thing in the Parisienne make-up.

At balls and other fashionable gatherings the French ladies are appearing now with their eyes red-dened as if they had been crying. The face is covered with ocher cream, a yellow substance.

When the beauty laughs, the apparently weeping eyes and the smiling lips present a strange contrast.

More Delegates Leave

Rome, Oct. 25.—(Special.) A second delegation of Kivianians left Rome today for the Vatican. The delegation, headed by Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, was composed of 12 men. Today's quota was headed by M. W. H. Collins, a delegate from the Georgia Baptist convention for this city. Today's quota was headed by M. W. H. Collins, a delegate from the Georgia Baptist convention for this city. ## Jury Deadlocked, Yarbrough Case Ends in Mistrial

Macon, Oct. 25.—A mistrial was declared at 12:30 o'clock today on the case of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, Macon dentist, who went on trial Monday night for the charge of riot in connection with the flogging of W. O. Barnett, harness maker, on the night of February 27, 1923. The jury retired at 11:30 o'clock and returned at 6:20 o'clock, and up to 12:30 today, no verdict had been reached.

Dr. Yarbrough was charged with the flogging of Barnett, who was taken to the hospital on the night of February 27, 1923. The jury was composed of 12 men, and the case was heard in the Macon district court.

Battled Robbers, Foiled by Safe, Set Store Afire

Fire discovered late Thursday night in the grocery store of G. K. Sigal, corner Piedmont avenue and Linden street, was believed by police to have been started by burglars who were unsuccessful in an attempt to chisel open the safe and who robbed the gas meter of several dollars.

Fire discovered late Thursday night in the grocery store of G. K. Sigal, corner Piedmont avenue and Linden street, was believed by police to have been started by burglars who were unsuccessful in an attempt to chisel open the safe and who robbed the gas meter of several dollars.

Motorcycle Officers Shillings and Weaver investigating the case discovered marks from a chisel on the safe door and the broken gas meter after the fire had been extinguished by only a small damage, leading them to believe the store was set on fire following the attempt to rob the safe.

A negro boy passing the store noticed the fire and turned in the alarm.

Evans Challenged To Debate on Klan By Rabbi Glazer

Washington, October 25.—Replies were issued here today on behalf of the National Catholic Welfare conference and the executive committee of the assembly of Orthodox rabbis of America, to the address delivered at Dallas, Texas, last night by Dr. W. H. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, outlining the Klan's attitude toward the Catholics and Jews.

Father John P. Burke, general secretary of the Catholic conference, declared Dr. Evans' statement regarding the Catholics in America had made the issue clear cut, adding that "it is for Americans to decide whether they will stand with their country or with the Klan."

The statement reported in today's press as made by W. H. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said Father Burke's statement, "refutes Evans' statement."

We have without further question the Klan's intolerance for the negroes, Jews and Catholics. Up to the present, in spite of statements and evidence to the contrary, the Klan has denied that it persecuted any of the above named.

Refutes Evans' Statement.
"Evans states that to the Catholics of the United States, the president of the United States is subordinate to the priesthood at Rome; that the parochial schools of the country are a proof of 'divided allegiance' on the part of Catholics. He offers no proof of these statements. He cannot offer proof. They are deliberate, malicious misstatements, refuted completely by the official declaration of the American Baptists on America's entrance into the war; by the thousands of Catholic dead buried overseas; by the fact that the first American officer killed was educated in a Catholic school, and the last American killed was a Catholic priest."

The Klan, through its official representative, sets at naught the declaration of independence, the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of every state in the union. According to the Klan the foundation on which our country was built, religious and racial tolerance, can not endure."

Be carefully arranging utensils and supplies to eliminate extra steps and motions, experiments at the University of Washington have demonstrated that a housewife can cut nearly eleven minutes from the time ordinarily taken to make a lemon pie.

MORTUARY

L. W. DANCE.
Information was received in Atlanta Thursday of the death in Orlando, Fla., of L. W. Dance, 53, formerly of this city, who occurred suddenly Thursday morning. Until four weeks ago Mr. Dance resided with his family at 1,000 Moreland avenue. Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Misses Louise and Lucille Dance; three sons, Samuel W., Joe W., and Andrew Dance, also survives. The body will be taken Friday to Savannah, Ga., his former home.

Mrs. Work—"I am opening a school for cooks," Mrs. Hiram-Ofen—"Then please do try to develop their staying power."—Boston Transcript.

"Don't imitate that busy bee too close," said Uncle Eben. "He's all right when he's working, but he has a mean way of takin' his relaxation."—Washington Star.

"How many suits should a woman have?" asks an expert on dress. We dunno, but we're game enough to take a little bet that it's more than she has."—Buffalo Evening Times.

Teacher of Hygiene—"Why must we always be careful to keep our homes clean and neat?" Little Girl—"Because company may walk in any moment."—Judge.

You Know a "One Is Good" when it makes you eat like a hungry boy and brings back the color to your cheeks. You can't feel the strengthening, invigorating effect of GROVER'S TASTEFUL CHILL TONIC. 60c.—(adv.)

Two Houses on Piedmont Ave.
These are located in the block between Edgewood Avenue and Warren Place, a block solidly built up with brick structures, with the exception of these two dwellings. They are known as Nos. 84-86 Piedmont Ave., each being situated on a lot 26x110.

These have recently been authorized to put these houses on sale separately at a price of $8,500 each. There is no mortgage loan or encumbrance of any kind and short-time payments could be arranged, but the sale must be practically on a cash basis.

Piedmont Ave. is now undergoing improvements and is looked upon as a very promising thoroughfare for investment purposes. The 2 places we offer are situated in a locality where there would be no long period of waiting for development; in fact, developments of a high order are on the adjoining lots.
